350 Dead Or Missing

Quakes And Tidal Waves Take Heavy Toll In Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Two days of shattering earthquakes followed by giant tidal waves have left at least 350 persons dead or missing in south and central Chile and leveled buildings in nine provinces.

Aid was rushed from Latin American neighbors and U.S. bases in Panama.

A 24-foot high tidal wave surged over a small village near the south Chilean port of Ancud Sunday night. The Interior Ministry announced at least 130 persons were missing and presumed drowned.

Another series of quakes jolted the battered area for the second straight day, boosting the death count from tremors alone to 220. Officials reported another 1,500 injured. Casualty figures were expected to mount as wrecked communications were restored.

The quake was Chile's worst since 1939, when more than 20,000 persons perished in the same area.

Official reports said the tidal wave near Ancud washed away 100 villagers and sank a boat carrying 30 passengers. None of the bodies have been recovered.

A tidal wave of hot sea water was reported to have hit Lebu, 235 miles south of Santiago, and amateur radio messages predicted a heavy toll.

The port of Arauco, several miles below Lebu, also sent out a distress call after it was struck by a 10-foot wave.

The U.S. Coast Guard issued a tidal wave alert for the California coast as a result of tides generated by the Chilean quakes. Coast Guard stations in Oregon and Washington also were alerted.

In Honolulu, the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey reported a tidal wave might reach the Hawaiian islands, but did not issue an alert.

Tremors Sunday rocked the provinces of Concepcion, Nuble, Arauco, Biobio, Malleco, Cautin, Valdivia, Llanquihue and Chilo.

Two tremors shook Santiago, a city of two million, sending residents fleeing into the streets, but no damage occurred.

Earth shocks shook Argentina from the Andes to the Atlantic Sunday afternoon, but no casualties were reported. Some property damage was reported in Esquel, Chubut province, and tall buildings swayed in Buenos Aires.

The Coast and Geodetic Survey in Washington said a series of shocks recorded Sunday was so strong "we can't separate one from the other on the recorder."

U.S. Ambassador Walter Howe told Chilean authorities the United States would fly medical supplies and clothing from Panama.

The Peruvian government ordered a state of emergency in Malleco to stem rising panic. The southern province was put under military command.

U.S., Soviet Square Off In Debate On Espionage

East-West Rift May Be Aggravated

Lodge Confident Of Deflating Complaint Offered By Gromyko

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union squared off today for a debate on espionage which appeared likely to aggravate still further the East-West rift that wrecked last week's summit conference.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, fresh from the Paris Big Four meeting, was reported ready to speak for at least an hour before the 11-nation Security Council in support of the Kremlin's charge that U.S. spy flights are a threat to peace.

Chief U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge said he was confident he could deflate the Soviet complaint. He was expected to contend that espionage is as old as history, that it is carried on by the Soviet Union and that it is no threat to peace.

Because of the part the U.S. intelligence flights played in the breakup of the summit conference, the council debate commanded unusual attention. The U.S. Information Agency said the full proceedings would be broadcast by the Voice of America. This included a live broadcast beamed at the Soviet Union.

The Soviet foreign minister planned to press for council condemnation of such flights as that of the U2 spy plane downed on Soviet territory May 1.

He also demanded that they be stopped, although President Eisenhower announced at the summit conference the flights had been stopped and would not be resumed.

Diplomats at the U.N. agreed, however, that Gromyko would find little support for his condemnation proposal. The general belief was that only the Soviet Union and Communist Poland would vote for such a resolution, which requires seven affirmative votes for passage.

Behind the scenes the council president for May, Sir Claude Corea of Ceylon, was reported working with other small-power members, seeking a resolution that might help improve U.S.-Soviet relations.

It also was reported that Corea was working on a proposal calling on all countries to make no unauthorized flights over the territory of another nation, but this was denied.

Lodge's strategy was not disclosed in advance. He returned to New York Sunday after three days of consultations in Washington with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

It was assumed that Lodge would devote his main effort to trying to show that the Soviet Union is as guilty of espionage as the United States. One U.S. source said he undoubtedly would cite as few cases.

Lodge has said that "at the proper time" the United States will present a proposal for a U.N. aerial surveillance system to guard against surprise attack. U.S. officials said, however, he wanted to hold off until after the Soviet complaint has been dealt with.

Police Repel Students' Attack On Jap Premier

TOKYO (AP) — Heavy police guards braved a shower of stones today to break up a new attempt by nearly 1,000 university students to storm Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's official residence.

It was the second attack in four days on the residence by the Zengakuren National Students Federation in its campaign to bring down the Kishi government and wreck the new U.S.-Japan security pact.

Driver Denies Fault For City Auto Collision

Georgetown Woman Injured In Mishap At Traffic Signal

A Georgetown woman suffered a neck injury in a rear end collision Saturday afternoon in which a city motorist, cited for failing to stop in the assured clear distance, denied being involved.

The mishap was one of 7 traffic accidents reported by police over the weekend.

Mrs. Elsie Shatkus of Georgetown R. D. 1 was treated at City Hospital Saturday afternoon for the neck injury when the car operated by her husband, Anthony V. Shatkus, 44, was struck in the rear by a car driven by John M. Davis, 1235 Pennsylvania Ave., police said.

Police said both cars were headed east on E. 6th St. and Shatkus stopped for the traffic signal at Broadway when his car was hit from the rear.

When arraigned in Municipal Court today, Davis entered a not guilty plea and denied being involved in an accident, although admitting he was driving on E. 6th St.

Shatkus and Patrolman Charles Winters testified Davis was the driver of the other car, but the East End man took the stand in his own defense and again denied being involved in an accident.

Puzzled by the case, Judge Samuel M. Chertoff delayed sentencing until 1:30 this afternoon to permit further investigation.

A drifting car was blamed for an accident Saturday afternoon in which the porch at the home of F. S. Chisler, 747 Sophia St., was damaged.

Larry Finlay, 59, of 709 Sophia St. told police he had parked his car on Grace St. It apparently drifted onto Sophia St. and struck the Chisler home at the corner of Grace and Sophia Sts., causing the porch roof to fall on the rear of his auto, Finlay said.

Some 25 feet of picket fence at the home of Robert McVey, 153 Pennsylvania Ave., was damaged Sunday afternoon when struck by a car.

Bill Pierson, 429 Elm St., told police he was attempting to start his car with jumper cables when it broke loose from its parking place and struck the fence.

An accident Saturday afternoon on Washington St. involved cars operated by Nancy S. Cottrill, 18, of 1756 Idaho Ave., and Thomas McLain, 37, of 721 Broadway, Wellsville.

Miss Cottrill told police she was backing to pull from a parking space and McLain was backing into a space behind her when the bumper of her car hit McLain's door.

24,000 Tax Statements Mailed For Real Estate

LISBON — Some 24,000 tax statements for the last half of 1959 have been mailed Columbiana County real estate owners, according to County treasurer Vincent C. Judge.

June 20 is the deadline for making payment. Penalties will be added after this date. Judge said the fact that someone doesn't receive a statement doesn't give them a legal defense for not meeting the deadline.

Tidal Waves Slam Hawaii; 2 Known Dead

HONOLULU (AP) — A series of four tidal waves slammed into the Hawaiian Islands today, leaving two known dead, and an unknown number of injured and widespread damage.

Hilo, the islands' second largest city, suffered the worst damage from the crushing waves, an aftermath of devastating earthquakes in South America.

Both deaths were reported at Hilo, many were reported injured and an unknown number were trapped in flooded buildings.

The biggest wave — topping six feet — hit at 1:05 a. m. (6:05 a. m. EST) sending a wall of water into the Hilo theater and plunging the city in darkness when it shorted out the city's power station.

Hilo, with a population of 25,000 bore the brunt of a tidal wave in 1946 when 159 persons were killed and 163 injured.

The first of today's waves struck at 12:25 a. m.

On Hawaii Island, the alarm was sounded at 8:30 p. m.—1:30 a. m. EST.

Residents and tourists in Honolulu's plush Waikiki Beach resort area and other low-lying coastal zones were evacuated to higher ground.

Tourists, some in pajamas, were moved out of the swank hotels.

Evacuation of coastal areas in Hilo and other coastal towns was completed by 10 p. m. Hilo is some 200 miles southeast of Honolulu.

Red Paper Continues Attack On Eisenhower

MOSCOW (AP) — The Communist party newspaper Pravda said today that President Eisenhower had "proved unable to change the law of his class, of his imperialist surrounding, capable of any dirty play."

Continuing its violent, post-summit attack on the President, the paper said during his Camp David talks with Premier Nikita Khrushchev last September, Eisenhower was "least of all thinking of friendship."

"As its loyal servant, he represented his capitalist class, his predatory system of imperialism whose leader the United States of America is justly regarded to be," Pravda said.

Some Will Open Saturday

Area Parks About Ready For Memorial Day Start

The approach of Memorial Day finds Tri-State District parks and recreation centers virtually ready for their traditional opening on the holiday, launching another summer season. Some facilities will be open earlier.

William Bell, superintendent of Thompson Park, said the park pool will open Saturday.

Hours will be 1:30 to 9:30 p. m. Prices will be the same as last year — 20 cents for children under 12, 30 cents for those 12 to 21 and 40 cents for adults.

Jack Frontone, teacher, athletic director and basketball coach at Beaver Local High School, will supervise lifeguards and be in charge of pool discipline.

Frontone, in charge of the Red Cross swimming classes the last two years at the pool, will hold another course. Life guards and other personnel are expected to be hired next week. Bell will be manager.

Painting of the pool, which was held up 10 days, by rain was completed Friday. Two new diving boards have been installed.

In other renovations, 110-volt outlets have been installed in all shelterhouses while all picnic tables, outdoor ovens and playground equipment has been painted.

Work is progressing on construction of a new basketball court near the pool and two tennis courts and two shuffleboard courts at the big shelterhouse. There is a new parking lot since the other is being used for the courts.

Tomlinson Run State Park near Pughtown, third — ranking state park in West Virginia in year-round attendance, opens its recreational facilities for the summer season Saturday.

Harder Work Seen Likely For Kennedy

Goal Is Nomination On First Ballot; Foes May Need Coalition

Drawing on his long background of reporting political affairs and conventions for The Associated Press, Jack Bell gives his views of what lies ahead for Sen. John F. Kennedy in his quest for the Democratic presidential nomination.

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts may have worked himself into a position forcing him to push harder than ever for the Democratic presidential nomination on the first ballot.

Kennedy's unbroken string of primary victories has alerted his rivals that a stop-Kennedy coalition may be needed if they are to have any chance at the nomination.

To counter this, Kennedy undoubtedly will try to convince undecided delegates, even before the convention opens in Los Angeles July 11, that he is within reaching distance of the nomination.

If he can help it, Kennedy obviously has no intention of standing by and letting first-ballot votes for favorite sons help Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri and backers of Adlai E. Stevenson create a deadlock.

Johnson and Symington seem likely to go into the convention with a combined total of more

Cumberland Population Shows Decline To 2,068

NEW CUMBERLAND — The village's population apparently has nosedived sharply in the last few years, according to a preliminary report on the 1960 Census.

Mayor Albert (Jack) Fuccy, in a letter from Thomas F. Wilshire of Fairmont, district supervisor of the Bureau of the Census, was told the unofficial population of New Cumberland is 2,068.

Wilshire, however, added that the figure is only preliminary and is subject to minor revision.

Mayor Fuccy said he figured the county seat's population at 2,400, basing his estimate on the number of water customers in the village. The Census Bureau expects to make an announcement soon of the official count, the mayor said.

Inquiries In Senate

2 Probes Shaping Up On Spy Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two separate Senate probes of the U2 spy plane incident shaped up today after a week of cautious political sparring over the collapse of the summit conference.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said over the weekend he thinks his committee should investigate events leading up to the summit debacle.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas immediately gave his blessing to the probe. "There's no better way to plan the future than to look at the mistakes of the past," he said.

Earlier Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) had announced that his policy machinery studying committee, starting closed door hearings Tuesday, would look into the spy plane incident "as it relates to the adequacy of the decision-making process at the top level of government."

During the past week Johnson and other Democratic leaders, in an effort to preserve national unity behind the President, had steered clear of direct criticism. Even as he endorsed Fulbright's probe, Johnson said at Oklahoma

City "I don't want to emphasize the mistakes because 20-20 hindsight is always easier than 20-20 foresight."

The Democratic Advisory Council issued a statement criticizing President Eisenhower for his handling of recent events and said U.S. policies played into the hands of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"The administration cannot prevent free and open discussion of our international affairs," said Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler in releasing the statement. He added that if Vice President Richard M. Nixon "wants to brush it under the rug, we're not going to let him."

The council statement said "our foreign policy has failed not because of the recent blunders related to the summit meeting but because of its fundamental lack of purpose and integrity."

The statement pledged support of any "sound efforts" the President may make to "salvage from the wreckage of the Paris meeting the means whereby the peace of the world can be assured."

Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) endorsed the statement. They are contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Alaska Eyes Completion Of Rescue Effort

Mt. McKinley Still Holds 2; Angry Sky, Clouds Hold Key

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — An angry spring sky and a layer of dense clouds thousands of feet thick held the key today to the successful completion of this state's greatest mountain rescue effort.

A storm which sent winds up to 100 knots swirling around the continent's highest mountain, towering Mt. McKinley kept the rescue machinery at a complete standstill. Heavy clouds completely obscured the mountain from 2,000 feet up.

Still to be removed from McKinley were the Whittaker twins of Seattle, Jim and Lou. Suffering slight frostbite, they were believed in no danger. Only the weather prevented aircraft from picking them up from their campsite at the 10,200 foot level.

With the Whittakers were a score or more of seasoned mountain climbers, hurried after the McKinley's icy slopes after the Whittakers and two companions. John Day and Pete Schoening fell 400 feet down an icy slope at the 18,000-foot level last Tuesday night.

Day, 51, a wealthy rancher from Central Point, Ore., was evacuated from the 17,000-foot level Friday night by a daring helicopter pilot, Link Luckett, who took his craft 1,200 feet above what had been considered its top operating limit.

Luckett, 32, pushed his small chopper beyond its range again Saturday to remove Schoening, 31, of Seattle.

Another amazing aerial rescue was made Friday by bush pilot Don Sheldon of Talkeetna. Flying a light plane, Sheldon, a veteran of other air rescues, landed at the 14,000 foot-level on McKinley and whisked to safety Helga Bading of Anchorage.

Mrs. Bading, 30, was a member of an Anchorage climbing party which went to the assistance of Day, Schoening and the Whittakers. She suffered mountain sickness, a condition brought on by lack of oxygen and for a time was in critical condition.

east of Chester, and boating facilities at Tomlinson Run lake, will remain open daily from noon to 8 p. m. until Labor Day.

Besides the swimming pool and boating, the 1.35-acre park also offers opportunity for fishing, group camping and picnicking. Four new cabins were built during the winter for vacationing youth groups. The 28-acre lake affords fair fishing for trout, bass and catfish, while tables and fireplaces are plentiful for outings.

A record attendance of 229,000 was set at the park last year, including 42,000 who used the swimming pool, according to N. T. Holbrook, park supervisor for 7 years. The pool has been freshly painted.

Holbrook said a $20,000 concession stand is to be constructed near the swimming pool late this summer. Meanwhile, bathers will continue to use the present concession stand in the bathhouse.

The swimming pool staff will include Ed McLain, chief life guard, and Dave North of East Liverpool, also a guard. Another guard will be hired soon. Mrs. Lucille Miller will be cashier. Mrs. George Bates is bathhouse attendant for the summer, Holbrook said.

Other proposed improvements include resurfacing of a road around the pool and 24 new picnic tables. The picnic season opened in April. In past years, the park has opened on May 30 for swimmers and boaters, but will open this year for the Memorial Day weekend.

Admission to the pool continues to be 50 cents for adults and 30 cents for children. Thirteen aluminum boats are available at the lake for 50 cents for the first hour and 25 cents for each additional hour.

The boat dock was lengthened to 45 feet during the winter. Work is presently going on at the park entrance where a new sign will be installed in a surrounding of rock fencing.

The beach at Raccoon Creek State park will officially open Saturday, George Armstrong, superintendent said. The park is located on Routes 30 and 18 about 15 miles east of East Liverpool.

He said boats will be rented starting Saturday. He said one temporary improvement has been made on the boat dock to prevent people from getting wet feet.

The park will be in "pretty good" shape by opening day and a few more signs will be put up to direct patrons. Opening day for fishing was April 15 and some good catches have been reported.

Swimming began Saturday at Lake Marwin as the recreation area at Radio Heights opened the summer schedule.

The park, featuring a new $10,000 miniature golf course, will be open from noon until midnight, while swimming hours are 1 to 9 p. m. daily.

Fishing, boating, picnicking and other entertainment is available. Some 150 new picnic tables, new boardwalks and other improvements have been made.

Rock Springs Park at Chester has been open on Sundays since May 15 and will begin the regular season Memorial Day.

It will be open nightly at 7, except Mondays, during the summer season.

The park will be the scene of numerous school picnics through mid-June. They started a week ago.

Education's Best Foot Forward

Starting this month and continuing into early June, high schools in this community will congratulate their 1960 graduating classes, give them some good advice and call it a year.

This is the great annual occasion when education's best foot is forward. There is a temporary suspension of the destructive criticism that sometimes seems so preponderant that education looks like a national project in failure.

Former President Hoover said recently when he was being interviewed for a television audience that the American educational system is the greatest in the world. More young men and women were going to college in the United States, he pointed out, than in all the rest of the world.

He said what no one disputes, that some public school preparation in science and engineering is crying for improvement, but he implied what no one disputes either, that American education has no peer in the results attained.

In no other place has education been opened to all. In no other aspect of government for the people has a greater effort been made to equalize the benefits of opportunity. Most invidious comparisons that are intended to show U.S. education at a disadvantage are made with educational systems that cater only to the intellectual elite. American education caters to everybody, in the belief that everybody has something to gain.

Thoughts like these are the common currency of impression during commencement season, as high schools proudly present their graduating classes. In even the smallest graduating classes there is the same range of educational impact that can be found in the largest classes—from the genius level, or near-genius level, to the students who barely squeaked through. Yet, everybody had the same chance for self-improvement.

That is the thought, though unspoken, when graduates are being congratulated. They had their chance. They are being congratulated for what they did with it, whether it was much, little, or medium.

Big Enough To Be A House Trailer

Though it can be argued that the globe-circling voyage of the U.S.S. Triton while submerged was more important in the long view of achievement than the orbiting of a 4½-ton space ship, the nod for short-range superiority must favor the space ship.

Both the United States and Russia were hopeful of punctuating their diplomacy in Paris with noteworthy accomplishments, and both the Triton voyage and the space ship launching were highly successful. But in the circumstances, the latter was more sensational.

A space ship weighing 4½ tons is equivalent to the weight of a small house trailer. It is the equivalent of a compact laboratory. It and the man-size dummy it bore aloft are the equivalent of the weight that would be present in a manned space capsule.

The Russian scientists who designed it and propelled the capsule into orbit 200 miles above the earth are correct when they describe it as "one of the last steps before mankind's emergency into outer space."

The most baffling thing about it is the weight. It exceeds even the great weights previously put into orbit by the Russians—upwards of two tons while the United States was still struggling with satellites the size of basketballs.

It is another reminder that while the United States is trying to catch up to Russia, the missiles in Russia will be working just as hard to stay ahead. This country's strongest bid for super-boasting power is the Titan rocket, still being tested. Meanwhile, the Russian bid for super-boasting power has been increased enormously.

One of these days, missiles will have the privilege of announcing that they are shooting weights equivalent to houses into space—and that will be the next-to-the-last step on man's difficult journey into outer space. The last step will be to bring the house-sized ships back to earth.

The announcement may come from the United States when it comes. But the way things look now, it is more likely to come from Russia.

For Better Care

Modern hospitals are an asset to any community. East Liverpool boasts of two—the City Hospital and the Osteopathic Hospital.

The former, through the generosity of local and district residents and business establishments, not too long ago was able to offer even greater service through the addition of a new wing. The latter, needing expanded facilities with which to properly meet the demands of a constantly-mounting patient list, is now in the midst of a fund campaign.

The money raised will be used for additional patient rooms, for an enlarged nursery and obstetrical rooms, for doubling operating facilities, for increasing X-ray space and equipment, for an out-patient department, for laboratory working space and other improvements.

As the trustees of the non-profit organization point out, "These urgent needs must be financed for the hospital to continue its growth and services to mankind in our community."

The Osteopathic fund appeal deserves every consideration.

San Francisco Gets A Sample

The mayor of San Francisco, shocked, as were his fellow citizens, by the fury of rioters who tried to break up a hearing of the subcommittee of the House Un-American Activities Committee, says the incident bordered on insurrection.

That is not too strong a word. But the insurrection was not spontaneous. It was a planned display, and the clue to the planning lies in two names—William Vincent Hallinan and Archie Brown.

Brown had been called to testify. He is a perennial Communist party candidate for office in San Francisco and California. He shouted inquiry about why his friends had not been given tickets for the hearing set off the riot.

While the rioting was at its height, Hallinan became conspicuous as the lawyer of some of the rioters being hauled away by the police. His position in the color spectrum of politics is revealed by his public record.

As counsel for Harry Bridges, the politico-longshoreman leader who never has been known to waver from the Communist party line, provided he knew the line, Hallinan had gained so much attention by 1952 that he was made the Progressive party's candidate for the presidency. He was endorsed by the American Labor party and the Communist national committee.

The Once Over

Khrushchev is for lessening tensions if it takes his last hatchet. He is for better understandings through rock tossing. Summit conferences look like a rerun of world's most famous battles, including Bastogne.

The conversation in Paris on the opening day: "Who got out of that car with Nikita?" "I dunno but it WASN'T EMILY POST."

Soviet leader seemed to be saying:

I love summit sessions.
So peaceful and warm.
And if I destroy 'em
They'll do me no harm.

De Gaulle was in the embarrassing spot of a host who welcomes everybody to the house for a musicale with cocktails and immediately has to shout: "The down all the heavy furniture, put away the crockery, watch for flying bookends and see that nobody puts the kitchen sink into orbit!"

It's clear from here in that bumpers front and rear on summit delegates should be compulsory. Russians were for ending the spy-in-sky meeting in a hurry because they had to get home fast and keep up their own world-wide espionage without recesses.

Ike and Nikita weren't on speaking terms. (Is that bad?) Best hope of peace could be to make sure no delegates spoke to one another.

The summit synchronized "Going up" with "Going down" and "All out!"

Imagine a situation in which it is necessary to SUE FOR PEACE AT A PEACE CONFERENCE!

It was like holding a brotherly love session in the backroom of a saloon. Nikita went higher into the air than the dummy in his spaceship. It's a screwball world when the top leaders can't get a friendly talk on averting global destruction without the bean ball, the low punch and the cry of "Drop that gun!"

TV's "OPEN END" with Dick Nixon was the best tranquilizer we have had in years. It should have been called "Open Bore."

Some smart politicians say that Khrushchev's demand that no summit sessions be held until after Ike ends his term may guarantee GOP victory. Nixon has been like a right-hand man, approving all his acts and policies and there's a big chance he will be helped by characteristic indignation of American voters to be told by a foreign dictator that there must be a change.

Ernest Hemingway has been photographed with Fidel Castro at the end of a big fishing contest in which the score is given as Fidel 5; Ernest Hemingway looked fairly uncomfortable and for once may have surrendered on the high seas in interest of peace.

Moscow may claim the spaceship has just found a live Soviet stowaway member aboard and that he and the dummy are playing first-around-the-world-in-95-minutes chess game.

Shock Treatment!

Hoffa Throws 'Paper' Weight Around

By Victor Riesel

Jimmy Hoffa is throwing his "paper" weight around again. And that's no light matter. His national headquarters has been chartering paper locals similar to those so heavily investigated during the earliest days of Sen. McClellan's committee, which is still deeply interested in Hoffa's future.

This flow of Hoffa's personal picture-window office is said to be a prelude to Hoffa's belief that he is certain to be going to his own summit late this year—a Teamster national convention. There, he expects to be elected permanent national president.

But the heavier the vote, the better, reasons JRH—and the new paper locals in New Jersey and New York will help.

Inside Hoffa's intimate circle the belief that Hoffa will be freed of all monitoring by the federal court is based on support from a bloc of 21 congressmen.

Of this congressional bloc which believes that the Teamsters are being persecuted, six are senators and 15 are representatives.

SOME OF THESE gentlemen feel quite strongly about saving the union from the maw of the federal court.

Rep. James Roosevelt, for example, thought that perhaps "impeachment" is the way to handle the venerable Federal Judge, F. Dickinson Letts, if the jurist persists in continuing the monitoring of the union and its leaders.

Roosevelt staunchly avowed that Letts "is inviting investigation by the proper committee of the judiciary." It seems to me that Roosevelt suggested that the judge, not the judged, be investigated.

Among these first angry men to take Hoffa's Kampf onto the congressional floor is one congressman who believes that the monitoring is a racket.

This charge came from Rep. Elmer Holland of Pennsylvania.

He said: "We are permitting the existence of a legalized racket under the supervision of a federal judge."

There is another legislator who seems to doubt the integrity of the federal court's appointees.

Congressman Abraham Multer of Brooklyn hit the House floor with: "It seems to me that the only reason that the court could have approved that kind of an arrangement is because there was some awfully nice patronage involved to the extent of $700,000 a year."

MULTER'S COLLEAGUE, John Dent of Pennsylvania, bluntly asserted: "It is no longer a mere rumor and - or gossip topic to hear charges that the monitors have set out to destroy the Teamsters Union."

I spoke to Hawaii's Sen. Hiram Fong who has officially asked for the removal of the monitors and for a national convention.

The senator told me that he was approached by the spokesman for 300 Hawaiian Teamsters—who had opposed him in the last election.

They had told him that the Monitors had cost the union a million dollars. Fong said the personalities involved shouldn't keep the union from getting a convention if so much money was spent on monitoring it.

At which point I did some probing, since I respect Sen. Fong and most of the others. I learned that they had all been approached almost simultaneously by the regional Teamster political action groups—of which there are now 46 state units.

The congressional bloc had not been told that the reason for the monitors' inability to move was the infantry-like attack on them by the battery of Hoffa's legal staff, sometimes numbering 40 or 50.

At this moment there are 24 separate Teamsters petitions in the Federal Court of Appeals. This is an effort to block virtually all of Judge Letts' attempts to get action for the monitors.

Furthermore, most of the Teamsters' expenditures have gone for fighting the monitors—not for fees to them. During 1959 alone, Hoffa spent $438,949.05 on legal fees and expenses.

Who's draining what treasury?

An Evening With Nixon

By Raymond Moley

The career of Richard Nixon has shown a rare sort of politician who never takes the easy course.

If two roads are open to him—one tortuous, dangers, and long; the other easy to travel or to bypass—he will take the hard way.

It would almost seem that he has for years been deliberately hardening himself for the office to which he currently aspires.

He has had spots of luck, such as the haphazard choice made by Gen. Eisenhower when he was chosen as a candidate for vice president.

Once in that office, he declined to exercise his pleasant prerogatives and prerequisites of acting as a ceremonial figure on occasions when the President was other occupied.

Instead he chose hard assignments, kept in the thick of policy making, developed an understanding of an infinite variety of governmental activities.

HE KNEW there would be trouble in Caracas on his South American tour and had a generous assortment of friendly Latin American neighbors to visit instead. But he faced and endured an unbelievably savage personal physical attack.

On Sunday evening in New York in a television interview he faced an equally dangerous situation. It was not a peril threatening his life but it could have ended in disastrous consequences to his political future.

This assignment he freely accepted and he came through with great credit to himself. Since the viewing audience was limited to the New Jersey-New York area, with only 15 stations participating elsewhere, some explanation is necessary here.

A television producer, David Susskind, has a show called "Open End." Apparently, that means that the questioning goes on till I don't know when. It begins at 10 in the evening and runs on until the small hours of morning.

Sometimes there are a number of participants but in the Nixon appearance the only other was Susskind as questioner. According to one TV critic, the interview ran on till 2:30 a.m. Others say 1:45 a.m.

All I know is that after keeping my eyes open and my posture erect, I had to quit watching and listening at 1 a.m. because of utter exhaustion. At that time, Susskind had reached only the middle of the three fields he planned to cover.

As to Susskind, I offer the characterization of an able and courageous television critic, Jack O'Brian of the New York Journal-American:

"A young man yearning anxiously—nay feverishly—in so many directions... climbing hard with an alpenstock, a professed Stevensonian Democrat..."

His questions were often loaded with his own preconceptions and "facts" to fit his ultra "liberal" philosophy and were never friendly but always designed to embarrass and humiliate the guest.

Nixon was not unaware that this was the sort of grilling to which he would be subjected. But he apparently felt that this was the sort of tough situation he needed to reveal to his audience his capacity to take it.

THE GRILLING on the U2 spy case and the decision of the President to resume underground nuclear tests took two hours. Nixon sat uncomfortably (it seemed) on a hard, upright chair while his adversary squirmed, smoked, drank coffee and fired incessantly from prepared questions.

Mike Wallace in his earlier and more aggressive days was a gentle shepherd compared with the Susskind of last Sunday night. Nixon, never losing his composure or descending to wisecracks, took it all most seriously and explained in his answers almost all of the complications of the foreign policy which has governed the administration in dealing with the Soviet.

The daring of this exposition, only a few hours before the bombshell exploded in Paris, must be considered in appraising Nixon's achievement.

So far as I was able to note, there was never an error in fact, a premature revelation of what the President was going to announce the next morning or an indiscreet comment.

Nixon was carrying the burden of explaining the succession of statements by the State Department after the capture of Powers without blaming anyone.

This performance as a preview of Nixon's capacity to work under fire should be ample notice to any present Democratic candidate that if he is nominated in July he will have a tough road from then to November.

When, Where?

Scholars long have pondered a puzzling question: When, how and where did man first learn to talk?

The oldest known written language is Sumerian, which was inscribed on wet clay tablets in the Mesopotamian Valley only 6,000 years ago, the National Geographic Society says. But prehistoric man doubtless was conversing, hundreds of thousands of years earlier, when he began living in groups and making simple tools.

Various philologists have theorized that people developed a language by imitating animal sounds, vocalizing natural gestures, or expressing emotions caused by pain, pleasure, or anger.

A new theory of the origin of speech has been advanced by the British philologist, Dr. A. S. Diamond. He believes that man's earliest true words were exclamations—"Cut! Strike! Break! Crush! Kill!"—uttered to signify a specific need for help.

According to Dr. Diamond, these and similar pure verbal roots are preserved almost intact in Hebrew and Bantu, two of the oldest and least changed languages still spoken. He suggests that the human race originally began talking in the vicinity of Africa's great lakes.

Archeological findings strengthen his theory. The oldest human remains have been found in Africa. A recent study indicates that man may have chipped his first crude stones from Ice Age pebbles on the shores of Lake Tanganyika some 500,000 years ago.

Artist Gauguin was a sailor between South America and Greenland before going to Tahiti where he painted his "Women of Tahiti" and other masterpieces.

Mr. K's Compromising

By James Marlow

Going To U.N. Security Council

WASHINGTON
Twice in two years Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev demanded a summit conference; twice he blew it up. He said only the heavyweights could settle a anything; now he's compromising for the heavyweights' messengers.

Two years ago he balked at doing business in the United Nations Security Council because he said it was loaded in America's favor; now he's going to the council which is still loaded in America's favor.

In 1958 when this country sent troops into Lebanon to defend it, Khrushchev demanded a summit meeting, finally agreed to hold it in the Security Council.

The council is made up of 11 nations. It has five permanent members: the United States, Britain, France, the Soviet Union, and the pro-American Nationalist Chinese. Some of the other six always have been, and still are, pro-American, thus giving this country a majority.

One week before the meeting Khrushchev called it off, saying the lineup was rigged on the American side.

Soon he was crusading for another summit meeting, this time outside the Security Council. President Eisenhower said the Big Four's foreign ministers would have to meet first to lay the groundwork.

Khrushchev agreed but said it was a waste of time. He talked of the ministers as if they were messengers for the big men, which in a sense they are. He said they couldn't do much because only the heavyweights can settle things.

Eventually he got agreement to hold his summit conference and then last Monday blew that one up too, with bitter words about the American U2 spy plane down over the Soviet Union.

Now he is charging this country with aggression and demanding that the U2 case go before the Security Council, which meets today. The heavyweights won't be there. Only their representatives will.

But Khrushchev not only contradicts himself; he repeats himself.

This year, after breaking up the summit meeting, he excited the West by announcing he would stop off in Communist East Germany on the way home. He did. But he did the same thing after the summit conference in 1955.

When he first demanded—in November 1958—that the Allies get their troops out of West Berlin, he gave them a six-month deadline. That would have been in May 1959.

But by March 1959, when the Allies said they wouldn't budge, he said he wasn't putting a deadline on Berlin at all. He said: "If it is not settled in six months, let it be settled in seven."

That sounds like what he said this year. After exploding last week's summit conference he said another could be held in six to eight months.

Little State, Big Battle

By David Barnett

The smallest state in the Union may become the stage for a political drama involving some of the top political names in the country.

The state is Rhode Island and the prize is the Democratic Senate seat being vacated by Sen. Theodore F. Green.

Most of the action will be aimed at the Democratic primary next September. Already, there are two announced candidates and two anticipated entries in the fight.

The announced candidates: 1. Claiborne Pell, the 41-year-old liberal from Newport and Washington who, in 1954, was national registration chairman for the Democratic National Committee.

2. J. Howard McGrath, a former senator who was "fired" from his national position as U.S. attorney general in April, 1952, over differences with President Truman's government clean-up policy.

Expected to get into the battle: 1. Dennis J. Roberts, three-time governor of Rhode Island who was defeated by the current Republican governor, Christopher Del Sesto.

2. Robert E. Quinn, another former governor who now is chief justice of the United States Court of Military Appeals.

Pell is a socialite with some labor backing, which puts him in the same class with Sen. Green and, as far as wealth and position are concerned, with the late Sen. Peter G. Gerry.

He got along well during the last presidential campaign with the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education.

MCGRATH STIRRED UP something of a hornet's nest in Washington last month. According to reliable reports, his old buddy, Harry Truman, offered informally to campaign for McGrath in Rhode Island.

A press report also put Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas in McGrath's corner.

The Texan, however, quickly made it plain he did not mean to endorse anybody in the Democratic primary.

As George Reedy, Johnson's assistant, explained:

"The senator has a cardinal rule against taking sides in a Democratic primary."

What had happened, he said, was that Johnson had been overheard in conversation casually telling a friend that the majority leader "had heard McGrath was getting into the race and could win."

Any reluctance that Roberts may have had to making the race is expected to evaporate with increasing indications that Sen. John win the presidential nomination.

During the past year, Roberts has traveled some 30 or 40 days on the campaign trail outside the state working for Kennedy.

The new state Democratic chairman, John G. McWeeney, is reported to be a Roberts supporter and splits in the party that would have affected a Roberts candidacy have been healed.

When Pell announced on April 8, it was expected he would get major labor support in the heavily unionized state, despite the fact that his home overlooks Baileys Beach, a symbol in Rhode Island of the upper crust.

Reports in Washington, however, indicate the state leaders of the Textile Workers feel obligated to support Roberts should he run.

Pell, however, is a dedicated worker in the Democratic advisory council and could draw votes from the "new intellectuals" both in academic and labor circles no matter what the labor leaders do.

THE WINNER of the Democratic nomination will have to face Gov. Del Sesto.

The popularity of the Democratic primary stems from the assumption that with Kennedy at the top of the ticket, a heavy Democratic vote will turn out in the Catholic state.

Pell, although an Episcopalian, arranged the gift of the Pells' former house in Newport to the Catholic diocese of Rhode Island. It is now St. Catherine's Academy.

Pell's background also contains a jewel for seafaring New England. He enlisted in the Coast Guard four months before Pearl Harbor and started his military career as ship's cook.

Traffic Claims 10

4 Drown In Ohio

Traffic Drownings Miscellaneous Total 10 to a steel guard rail and overturned during a time trial at the new Cloverleaf Speedway in Cleveland. 16 land.

By The Associated Press

Drownings moved to the fore for the first time this year in Ohio's weekend fatality picture during the 34-hour period ended Sunday midnight.

Four drownings were reported—three of them in a pair of boating mishaps—while the traffic toll, perhaps due in part to a rainy Sunday, was "only" 10, down considerably from recent weekends.

A racing car smashup at the new Cloverleaf Speedway near Cleveland took one life and a fall from a porch took another. That made a total of 16 accidental deaths.

Double-fatal accidents were recorded near Wauseon, where two young men died as a truck jackknifed into their car, and in Lake Erie near Vermilion, where an Elyria man and wife drowned as a 15-foot boat capsized in heavy waves.

The fatalities:

Friday Night

Dwight Watkins, 23, Delta, and Donald Burton, Rt. 2, Wauseon, when a semi-trailer truck jackknifed into the path of their car on U. S. 20 Alternate-Ohio near Wauseon.

Stanley Jalowiec, 31, Elyria, when his racing car smashed in-

William Partin, 17, Alliance, when the car in which he was riding smashed into a tree there.

Saturday

Robert Blevins, 29, Cleveland, drowned when a rented 14-foot boat capsized in Lake Erie.

William Brown, 5, Cleveland, when he fell off a dock while fishing in Fairport (Lake County) and drowned.

Melvin Baker, 23, Dayton, struck by a car as he crossed Ohio 4 just outside Dayton's city limits.

Marie Williams, 41, Miamisburg, when her car collided with two others on U. S. 25 a half-mile south of that Montgomery County town.

Eldon Lee Gowins, 30, Rt. 1, Stone Creek, in a one-car crash on a Tuscarawas County road a mile west of Dover.

City's Population
May Show Slight
Last Minute Gain

East Liverpool stands to gain a few more residents in the 1960 census as a few householders, missed in the earlier enumeration, are counted in the "mop up" operation.

Ray Neidengard, crew leader, said about 14 or 15 have been added to the census rolls inside the city since the first count was made.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Tucker and granddaughter, Marilyn Smith, of 542 Belek St., were counted last week. They had not been on the original list. Twenty-two "missing" residents were found in the Pleasant Heights area just outside the city limits last Tuesday, according to Neidengard.

The families reside on an unnamed dead-end street which had not been on the lists of the enumerators and had not been visited.

Neidengard said the final operations of the census in this district will be ended Friday, and the district office at Steubenville will be closed.

The city's population in the current census has been listed at 22,158, a decline from the 24,217 of 1950.

Neidengard said anyone not counted yet should advise him or the office at Steubenville before Friday.

Jaycees Take Top Award At State Meeting

The East Liverpool Junior Chamber of Commerce won six project awards, including one first place, at the state convention over the weekend at Cincinnati.

Judging was according to population divisions, with East Liverpool classified in Division III for locals in towns of 15,001 to 50,000. There are 35 in this division.

The first place was won for the publication of the Comment, the local Jaycee newspaper, an internal affairs project. Up to May 1, the deadline for completing projects to be judged, 9 monthly issues had been put out. Frank Dawson is the editor.

Second place awards were won for projects in the classifications of community health and safety, civic and community improvement and inter-club relations, while third place awards were won in sports and youth and religious activities.

Of the 12 classifications, East Liverpool entered projects in 10 and won in 6. The Zanesville Jaycees topped practically all the other top awards in the division.

A plaque was received for the first award while certificates were received for the others. The award winners were announced at a noon luncheon Saturday. This is the first time in several years East Liverpool has had any entries on the state level.

Six local Jaycees attended the three-day affair which ended Sunday with election of state officers.

They were Ed Adkins, James Al-lison, Jack Hales, George Hales and William Webber.

Man Due Hearing
For Knife Threat
To City Patrolman

A preliminary hearing for a city man, accused of assaulting a patrolman with a deadly weapon, was continued today to permit him to secure counsel.

John J. Staherek, 321 W. 9th St., told the court he would attempt to secure an attorney after being warned by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff the charge is a felony and the preliminary hearing would determine if there is sufficient evidence to bind him to the Grand Jury.

Judge Chertoff set the preliminary hearing for Thursday at 9:30 a. m. and fixed Staherek's bond at $1,500.

The charge was filed by Patrolman M. L. Fowler, who alleged Staherek assaulted him with a knife when the officer and Lt. Thomas A. Walker were called to Staherek's home Sunday night.

Police said the two officers were called to the Staherek home about 10 p. m. When attempting to learn the cause of disturbance, Staherek secured the knife and threatened Officer Fowler, police said.

Staherek also was charged with resisting arrest and intoxication. He entered a "no contest" plea to the resisting charge and pleaded guilty to intoxication.

However, Judge Chertoff said he would allow Staherek to change his pleas after conferring with counsel.

School Development Study

Stanton Among 6 In OSU Planning

Stanton Local School District in the Irondale-Hammondsville area has been named as one of six school systems drawn together in an Ohio State University project of research for future development of schools throughout the country. All of the six systems — five in Ohio and one in West Virginia — are planning secondary school buildings. A $1,597,000 bond issue was passed in Stanton Local district in May for a new high school plant in Hammondsville.

ENTITLED "The Associated Schools Approach to Planning Secondary Schools," the project has been designed by the School Plant Division of OSU's Bureau of Educational Research and Service. In an announcement to Supt. C. P. Henderson of Irondale, the OSU research team points out that all six buildings will be constructed during the next few years to meet needs of expanding enrollment and to put into operation certain school programs.

"The schools also have in common the need first to clarify and evaluate new school program ideas so that the proposed buildings will be flexible enough to cope with the most far-reaching changes which now can be envisioned."

The announcement said Dr. M. J. Conrad, head of the School Plant Division, and Dr. Arthur E. Wohlers, research associate, proposed the co-operative approach to the comprehensive program planning process, which would be well beyond the financial means of most individual school districts.

THE PROJECT is now underway with the support of the university, the 6 school districts, and a recent grant of $37,825 from Educational Facilities Laboratories, Inc., of New York.

In the first phase of the undertaking, the school staffs and their architects will hear and discuss views of some of the nation's foremost authorities on the secondary school curriculum, a cultural anthropologist, a socio-economist, nationally recognized architects and the school officials who have recently begun new programs.

The associated group of school systems include Stanton Local of Irondale, Columbus, Greenhills, in suburban Cincinnati, Heath, near Newark, Norwalk, and Kanawha County in Charleston.

Robert F. Beatty of East Liverpool is architect for Stanton Local's new school and Dr. William S. Banfield is president of the Board of Education.

THE CONSULTANTS will take part in work sessions both on the OSU campus and in the local districts where the entire local school staffs can participate.

Their discussions are likely to explore a wide variety of questions:

"How can the school make greater use of laymen from the community?" "Can some classes be made larger?" "How will individual learning activities be enriched?" "What provisions should be made for television and other electronic aids?" "What is the place of vocational education?" and other topics dealing with additional facets of secondary education and its facilities.

The first phase, already launched, is scheduled for completion by mid-October.

LEADING curriculum specialists already have taken part in campus work sessions. The first phase will close with the writing of educational specifications for new secondary school buildings in each of the six districts.

The major objective of the second phase, to be finished early in 1961, will be the conversion of specifications into preliminary architectural plans.

After the new buildings are in use, the School Plant Division will evaluate the resulting programs and determine how well the buildings meet program needs.

"THE PROJECT may have important results for the future development of hundreds of schools throughout the country," sponsors said.

Dr. Conrad and Dr. Wohlers also reported that the enthusiastic reception given the project has stimulated plans for a similar undertaking in the elementary school field. About 10 systems will be grouped for this project. Funds for the elementary work were included in the Educational Facilities Laboratories grant and work is expected to begin soon.

Motto of Kansas is "Ad astra per aspera" or "To the stars through difficulties."

Miss Cora Wickline, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of officers.

Some 25 attended. Mrs. Hodnick reported on the Beaver County PTA conference held April 30 at Hopewell High School. Mrs. Suznevich and Mrs. Otha Mosley attended.

The 1st St. PTA, along with those of 7th and 4th St. Schools, and the Midland Lincoln High School Band Boosters Club, will sponsor the school picnic June 8 at Rock Springs Park at Chester.

Buses will be chartered and round-trip tickets will cost 60 cents. Ride tickets may be purchased at the schools, 10 for 40 cents.

Next meeting will be in September.

Expense Reports Filed By 4 More Candidates

Four more candidates who sought nomination at the May 3 primaries have filed sworn statements of campaign expenses with the County Election Board.

John Taylor of Salem, unsuccessful in a bid for the Democratic nomination for state senator in the 20th-22nd District, said he spent $205. Samuel J. Crawford of Lisbon R. D. 2, defeated in a bid for Democratic nomination for county commissioner, said his expenses totaled $199.33.

Two unopposed Republican nominees also filed the reports. County Engineer Charles O. Snyder of Salem, renominated without opposition, said he spent $17.77. G. William Brokaw of East Liverpool, renominated for prosecuting attorney, said he had no expenses.

Corn Crop Loan Applications Due

LISBON — Clifford F. Shaw, chairman of the Columbiana County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminded that May is the final month to obtain a loan or purchase agreement on the 1959 crop corn.

To be eligible for a price support loan, corn must be stored in an approved structure and during May must contain not more than 14 per cent moisture. Purchase agreements are available through May 31 to those who want price protection but do not care to place 1959 crop corn under loan.

As required by present legislation, Secretary Benson has proclaimed marketing quotas for next year's wheat crop and set July 21 as the date for a growers' referendum, which will be held in the county ASC office and Farmers National Bank building.

Farmers who plan to have over 15 acres of wheat for harvest in 1961 will be eligible to vote.

If two-thirds of the voters approve, marketing quotas will be in effect for 1961, the eighth consecutive year. Farmers can market wheat from their allotment or 15 acres, whichever is the larger.

If over a third of those voting disapprove marketing quotas there will be no restriction on the amount of wheat a producer may grow or market, Shaw said.

GERM SPREADERS

In the past we caught a relatively small number of illnesses. They were more apt to be fatal or last longer... but there wasn't the variety. Today, due to the automobile and larger urban areas, we expose ourselves to strangers' germs more often.

Fortunately, new drugs and medications make us better equipped to fight these ailments than those of the past. For prompt, dependable service, bring your prescriptions to us.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The recent letter in your column about whether or not a married man should wear a wedding ring really hit me. I agree with you that it doesn't prove a thing.

My husband's wedding ring left a deep impression on me—or, I should say, on my lip, when he hit me during our honeymoon. He was one of these perfectly delightful guys whose conversation and polished manners were the envy of every girl in the room. How true are those trite, time-worn words, "You don't know a man till you live with him!"

I'm no longer married to the big stiff and believe me, my present husband does NOT wear a wedding ring. And he never will. —EXPERIENCED.

Germ Dodger

Dear Ann: A woman who works in our office will not shake hands with anyone, regardless of who it is.

She will not use the phones on other desks. She keeps a small sponge near her own phone and wipes the mouthpiece before every conversation.

A few weeks ago there was an epidemic of flu and colds in our office. This woman came to work wearing a surgical mask and removed it only when she ate her lunch. (Behind her back we called her "Dr. Joyce Gordon.")

She seems perfectly normal in every way, is friendly, cheerful and well liked. But this strange behavior makes us wonder if she isn't a little squirrely. May we have your views? — 6TH FLOOR CLAN.

Dear Clan: The woman may seem perfectly normal in other areas but she has a germ phobia which is, of course, an illness.

Some people fear closed in places, others fear high places, fire, water, etc. Such phobias can be crippling in their impact. Therapy has proven very successful in abolishing fears but, of course, it's not your place to suggest it.

Carpenter Square

Dear Ann: I'm married to a wonderful man. He's a first-class carpenter, steady churchgoer and a fine father. The trouble is he has a needling sense of humor that a lot of people don't understand. I'm afraid he makes enemies without realizing it.

My club met here yesterday and Sam said to one of the women who had just got a new permanent, "What happened to your hair? Looks like you got hold of a live wire, Tillie." She smiled (forced kind) and I know she was offended.

The next incident made me write this letter. A woman in the club who has always had a weight problem has let herself go in the past year. She's awfully big and is sensitive about it. He looked at her and said, "Girl, you're getting as fat as a pig. I'll bet that cornet of yours is screaming at the seams!" She didn't crack a smile and I felt like 2 cents.

My husband is really a kind person and he wouldn't hurt a fly. He's just trying to be humorous. What can I tell him? —ALICIA.

Dear Alicia: Since he's a carpenter tell him to measure twice and saw once. Jokes about personal appearance are not humorous. They are tasteless and cruel. The clown who ridicules and belittles and calls it "a joke" never fails to make an enemy.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jaycees Hold Show Of Cars Despite Storm

Three hundred attended the Junior Chamber of Commerce Motorama auto show Sunday at Skyview Theater, despite the heavy rain.

Rain forced the postponement of the show two weeks ago. And, despite the inclement weather, 41 classic cars from all parts of Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Canada and Iowa were registered for judging in the show. The distance award went to the owner of an old car from Iowa City, Iowa.

Arnold Headlund and Darrell Searly, co-chairmen, said all who had rented space for displays were present and remained throughout most of the day. The show was for new car dealers, auto accessories, garden appliances and "anything powered by a gasoline motor."

Headlund, who also served as chairman of the annual Auburn-Cord-Duesenberg Club spring meet Friday, Saturday and Sunday, said 70 registered for the weekend affair. Twenty-one autos were entered in competition.

Fifty attended a banquet Saturday night at the Travelers Hotel. The event was tied in with the Jaycee auto show.

Headlund said cars were entered from Iowa, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Oklahoma. The distance award went to a man who drove his Duesenberg from Tulsa, Okla. Three cars also were entered from Canada.

Eighteen of the cars paraded through the business district preceding the judging Saturday noon at Rock Springs Park at Chester.

15 Attend Session Of Clarkson Class

Refreshments were served. The meeting will be June 18.

350 Hear Pastor Talk At Rites In Salineville

SALINEVILLE — "Pressing On" was the sermon of the Rev. James McCollam at Baccalaureate service for graduating seniors of Salineville High School Sunday night at the school.

Some 350 attended the ceremonies, for which Rev. McCollam of the United Presbyterian Church was the speaker.

Achievement of a worthwhile life is possible through a forgetting of the unessential things of the past and a pressing on toward a goal, mindful of God's role, he said.

Commencement for the class will be held May 31, with State Sen. Oliver Ocasak of Tallmadge as speaker.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Calmness Helps Stuttering Child

Stuttering most often begins before the age of five or six. Most stutterers of whom parents write me are around two, three or four.

Usually the cause is emotional. As studies have revealed, most children, in early development of speech, repeat some words or parts of words. More often than not, they "grow out of it." Sometimes this repetition is so frequent as to be noticed, and parents say of the child, "He stutters." Indeed, notice of just an occasional repetition can cause the parent to feel and act concerned. Then her emotional response when the child repeats a word or two can cause him to repeat more often.

SHE CAN DO most harm then or later if she interrupts him, asks him to wait, or to say the word after her. At any age the more self-conscious the stuttering child becomes, the more he will stutter. If your young child repeats a few sounds or words, take hold of yourself so as not to look, speak or act as if anything unusual has occurred. Try to behave as if all were well. Do likewise if he stutters noticeably.

Should he have great trouble over a word you know he wants to say, you might nonchalantly say it for him so that he can go on comfortably. His apparent trouble should be a signal to you to strive for more relaxation in yourself and less strain and excitement in the whole family, and to provide the youngster with a less exciting, more relaxing program, with radio and television silent or carefully regulated.

ALSO, YOU should look for any possible reasons for him to worry or feel unhappy.

Trying to keep up with an older brother or sister, or feeling himself less important in the family than a younger child, or worrying over relations with playmates are sometimes among his problems. A physical check by your physician might be desirable.

Read to this child a great deal, even if he is over six or eight years old. It would also be fine if you could get him to sing with you and the other children. Encourage him in creative fun at doing and making things.

Some stuttering children run and weeks to lie down for half an hour on coming home from school, with another short, quiet period before the evening meal.

MOST PARENTS, without dealing directly with the child's stuttering, might be able, indirectly, to help him overcome it. Those who believe they can't, after following the foregoing suggestions several months, should seek help from a speech specialist.

My bulletin "The Young Child Who Stutters" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Nixon Seeks Support For Aid Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon is trying to rally support for the administration's foreign aid program among some of his own party members in Congress.

He sent a letter Monday to Republican members of the House Appropriations Committee, who don't always share the administration's view that large expenditures are needed for foreign aid.

He told Rep. John Taber (R-NY) and other GOP representatives he is convinced any large cut in foreign aid would be "regarded by the world as a headlong retreat by our country, either as an abandonment of collective security or as a withdrawal of our interest in the welfare of friendly peoples struggling to stand with us in freedom."

Nixon reportedly got clearance from President Eisenhower for his letter, which places him on record as being strong agreement with the Eisenhower foreign aid program.

Congress has passed a bill authorizing a $4,066,000,000 outlay for military and economic assistance abroad, but there will be a strong effort to cut this figure when Congress votes the actual appropriation. Congress sliced 27 per cent off the authorization figure in providing funds for the current fiscal year that ends June 30.

Nixon did not specify a figure but said in the letter the mutual security program "is vital to our own security and indispensable to our future welfare and prosperity."

Questioned by the judge, Walters said he lost his license a month ago. He was ordered to secure a new one, which then will be suspended.

Walters was cited by police, who said his car crossed the center line on Pennsylvania Ave. near Maryland Ave., striking eastbound cars operated by John Leavell, 1143 Erie St., and Paul E. Brindley, 819 Lincoln Ave.

Philip Sole, 25, of Lawrenceville, who was cited for driving without an operator's license Friday night, forfeited a $50 bond. Sole was cited after his car struck a hole on W. 9th St., blowing out a tire and causing him to spin into an embankment.

Walter Corbin, 36, of Salineville R. D. 1 was charged with making an improper turn after his car collided with another on Route 30 at the intersection with Route 7 about six miles northwest of here Saturday night at 8:30.

Officers said Corbin was headed south on Route 30 and made a turn onto Route 7 into the path of a car driven north on Route 30 by James Hogue, 18, of Cuyahoga Falls.

Neither driver was injured, officers reported.

William Adams, 19, of E. Taggart St., East Palestine, escaped injury when forced off Route 14 about two miles east of Salem Sunday afternoon, then swerving back onto the highway, colliding with another auto.

Adams was headed east when he was compelled to pull off the highway by another auto. He managed to return to the roadway, but his car was out of control and hit an approaching auto operated by Frank Kellner, 67, of Columbiana R. D. 1.

Hugo Salvatore, 36, of Pittsburgh was charged with reckless operation after his tractor-trailer rig went out of control on a curve of Route 170 a mile north of Unity Saturday afternoon and ran into a field.

than 500 votes, the vast majority of which would belong to the Texan.

Another 173 votes would be tied up if Govs. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California, Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and G. Mennen Williams of Michigan hold out for complimentary first-ballot support that might enhance their chances for a place on the ticket.

Thus fewer than 100 more anti-Kennedy ballots would be needed to keep the Massachusetts senator from getting the needed 761 for the nomination in the initial voting.

If Kennedy can collect around 700 votes on the first count, he probably would get the necessary roll call switches right there to give him the nomination.

If he falls much short of that, Kennedy's bandwagon psychology might falter dangerously. Having stopped him once, his opponents, rather than he, might gain strength on subsequent tests despite substantial second-ballot support for Kennedy in some favorable son delegations.

To offset this Kennedy apparently is going to have to break into the favorite-son lineup at the start. He will

'Jolt Diet' Aids Discouraged Reducers

"I am just about ready to give up . . . This 'Mayday' distress call from a Maine dieter is typical in late spring. The most disheartened letters come from dieters who have taken on off 20-some pounds by dint of diet and then run into a brick wall. This one writes:

"I made up my mind two months ago to diet without any help from pills. I wrote for your Hunger Control Diet and Calorie Chart. I lost nine at first. In two months I have taken off 20 pounds. But I still weigh 167 . . . and for the last three weeks, try as I will, I haven't lost a pound! I'm just about ready to give up. The only thing that keeps me on the diet path is the fact that I look and feel so much better with this weight off. Please tell me how I can start losing again. What can I be doing that is wrong?"

ALL DIETERS in the same predicament, tune in. It will be easier to keep your spirits up during a weight plateau when you realize this leveling off is part of nature's rhythm during a reducing period. For a stretch of three, four, or more weeks you may not lose. Don't give up now!

At this point you will find it helpful to change your diet a little and cut down to 800 or 900 calories a day, but for two days only. Ordinarily this dietitian does not favor rigid diets made up of a few foods. So-called "quickie diets" are of no help. To begin with, the idea that any diet followed for a few days can be of any permanent value in solving your weight problem is a snare and a delusion. You can lose on such fare, but as soon as you go back to your regular ways of eating, the pounds bound back.

Then too, short term diets do nothing to help change your food habits. In the long run it is only by making a definite change in your food habits that you can control your weight.

However, for those who have lost 20 pounds and appear to have struck rock bottom, here is an emergency menu:

Breakfast — Tomato juice; 2 eggs — any way except fried (no salt); Black coffee.

Dinner — 2 broiled ground round steak patties (large — 5 ounces each — have fat trimmed off before meat is ground); spinach or string beans.

Supper — glass of Buttermilk and dish of Prunes.

THIS MENU is high in protein and the main meal is given in the middle of the day so the advantage of the extra heat produced is extended over a longer number of hours. No salt should be used for these two days. This jolt-off diet should be used for two days only. Following this go back to the varied protective diet of 1,000 calories.

To consolidate your losses and pare off inches during the lull in losing, continue with precision calisthenics.

Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Finch Murder Retrial Set To Start Today

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Retrial of the Finch murder case starts today — unless the handsome, wealthy surgeon or his pretty paramour wins a delay.

Grant B. Cooper, attorney for Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42, said he would ask that the new hearing be moved elsewhere because of wide publicity the case has received here. A similar request failed at the first trial.

Red-haired Carole Tregoff, 24, charged with murder and conspiracy as is her physician lover, has a motion pending before the State Supreme Court seeking to disqualify Superior Court Judge Leroy Dawson on grounds of prejudice.

At trial No. 1 a jury of five men and seven women deliberated nearly 40 hours and then announced it could not decide whether the lovers are guilty of murdering the doctor's socialite wife, Barbara Jean Finch, 36.

The doctor contends she was slain accidentally in a violent struggle over a pistol.

The deadlocked jury was dismissed and a new trial ordered.

Try Friendly Persuasion

AP Newsfeatures

When robins chirp and trees come into bloom, men dream of leisure — hammocks in the backyard, fishing from river banks. But women — they dream of home improvements.

A woman's leisure is all involved with picture book ideas — patios, pleasant vistas, chic out-door living.

The only fly in the ointment is you know whom.

WHAT APPROACH can the lady of the house use to get the home handyman in the mood to fulfill at least one of her dream projects?

It will be difficult to sell him an idea if she uses the wrong technique. Nagging won't work. Temper will only bring that light into his eyes that seems to say, "You promised to love honor and obey and keep me from heart attacks."

If the project dearest to your heart is here, try one of these approaches:

The New Patio Pitch. "Hon, as soon as we get a little terrace place where we can entertain, I want to get you a new chaise lounge. All you need to build it is some brick and a load of sand, and then you just put the little brick in designs, if you like. We can all help, and it'll be done in no time at all."

Plug for a Screened-In Porch. "Wouldn't it be wonderful to eat outdoors all the time without bugs in the potato salad? Mimi Jones says her husband screened-in their porch in a couple of weekends. All you need is some uprights, 2 x 4s, screens, doors and shingles. She may have been bragging about the length of time it took him to do it, because you're much better workman any day. Really you are dear."

A Bucolic Scene In The Making. "Dear, when you finish terracing the lawn and planting all the new bushes, you should take some time off and go fishing. And you should have some new dry flies to start you off."

Our Very Own Farm. "We should get a strip plowed for a garden. The children have never tasted fresh vegetables right out of the soil. I could put up chile sauce, beans, corn and fruit, too, dad, huh dad?"

DREAM HOUSE. "A couple of cans of bright white paint can do wonders for a house. It could turn ours into a little enchanted cottage, I'll bet. It's amazing how far a can of paint goes these days. We could paint the shutters turquoise. I could put up some window boxes. You really need one of those new ladders you've always wanted for a job like that, dear, so when you get around to it, why don't you pick one up at the hardware store. We'll budget it in somehow."

Please Do Something, Anything, Darling. "There are just a few little things to be done around here, dear, then you'll have the whole summer off with nothing to do, almost. The garage needs cleaning. Those old newspapers and magazines should be thrown away. The porch floor could stand a coat of paint. Ditto the garden furniture. Junior's sandbox needs a couple of nails. Sally's swing needs adjusting. The dog's pen could use a good cleaning. The hedges need to be clipped...etc."

If You Use Latex Paint, Follow The Instructions

NEW YORK—The new latex emulsion exterior house paints have been introduced by reputable companies only after many years of testing.

Therefore, before applying these new type paints it is necessary that the users read and follow carefully all instructions on the label and accompanying literature if they want excellent results.

Manufacturers of the new latex emulsion exterior paints recommend the proper primer to be used when an undercoat is necessary before the latex emulsion topcoat is applied to exterior surfaces. All stress that proper preparation of the surface, especially if previously painted surfaces are to be recoated, must be done to get the best job.

These exterior latex emulsion paints are formulated for use over wood, masonry, stucco, cement block, concrete, brick, asbestos siding and shingles, as well as properly prepared metal surfaces.

The products of various manufacturers will naturally differ slightly as all paints generally do. However, they all have the following characteristics. They are:

Easy to apply with brush, roller or spray, and are spread easily.

Quick drying, usually in one-half to one and one-half hours, thus minimizing dirt and bug collection. A second coat can be applied in two hours or less, as directed.

Able to be applied over damp surfaces. This does not apply, of course, to solvent-thinned primers which may be needed.

Less likely to blister because of excess interior moisture since the latex paint film over properly prepared surfaces is permeable to moisture vapor.

Generally show superior tint retention to oil or alkyd paints with equal durability.

In addition, brushes, rollers and spray guns can be cleaned with water and spills may be wiped up with a damp cloth.

Gen. Joseph F. Battley, president of the 73-year-old National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, points out that these new exterior latex emulsion paints are made only from the highest-priced raw materials and that they require very tight chemical production control every step of the manufacturing process in order to assure a quality product.

One other important thing to remember is to purchase only the products of reputable manufacturers sold by long-established dealers in whom you have confidence.

Obviously, paints of this high quality cannot be sold by the type of merchandising that employs "free deals," "another gallon for one cent," "two-for-one" offers, on their every day of the year so-called special sales.

It costs less in the long run to paint well the first time.

After you've let herbs steep in vinegar — so you'll have a flavoured concoction for salad dressings — strain the vinegar through a couple of thicknesses of muslin.

Clever Gardener Will Guard Against Everyday Accidents

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer

The clever gardener doesn't cultivate a crop of accidents. He handles his rake, hoe and scythe with the same consideration a hunter uses in handling a gun, and he organizes his patch of land before he starts to work.

He'll get his work tools in shape before he begins that long summer session outdoors.

All rough places on the handles of tools should be smoothed with sandpaper and broken or split handles should be replaced before the implement is used.

The metal edge of spade, hoe and cultivator should be sharpened with a file. If the metal is bright instead of corroded the tools will be easier to use. Steel wool, sandpaper, or another abrasive will help put the metal into shape.

He'll do a garden cleanup job before he plants.

All pieces of broken glass, tobacco tins, coffee can lids, and other bits of rubbish that have a way of getting into the garden should be removed. Fences should be examined so that protruding nails and breaks in the wood may be fixed.

Old rusty nails are dangerous; these should be hammered into the wood or removed. Small heaps of trash should not be picked up with bare hands. It's a good way to get injured. Many cases of blood poisoning have resulted from weeding out piles of trash with the hands.

He'll put his sharp garden tools safely out of the way when he is not using them.

A hoe should not be carried over the shoulder as it may catch a bystander in the eye. Dangerous ends of garden tools should be carried near the ground.

A rake should never be left on the ground when not in use. Serious accidents have been caused when the end of the rake has been stepped on.

He'll dress for safety and comfort.

It's best to wear clothing that fits well so that it will not catch on tools, fences, tomato stakes or bean poles. A hat should be worn to shade the skin from excessive doses of sun. Long work periods should be avoided to foil sunstroke and hand blisters.

He'll be health conscious.

Newer insecticides require proper use. Directions on packages should be read carefully, and the skin should not come into actual contact with spray.

Sprays and plant hormones should be kept on high shelves, stored separately from other household packages so that they will not be a threat to children or mistaken by older members of the family with poor vision.

Sprays that are poisonous should not be used on leaf vegetables or other vegetables which may be eaten raw or without thorough washing.

Red Crew Sure Ailing Comrade OK Here In U.S.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—

The crew of a Soviet fishing trawler prepared to head for the open sea today, confident that an ailing comrade was getting good care from the Americans.

The 120-foot trawler Masalski planned to resume fishing for three or four days and return to pick up the hospitalized crewman, said Viktor A. Osipov, a Soviet Embassy official.

The seaman, Ivan Baluk, was in good condition and recovering from an upper respiratory infection. He grinned at newsmen who finally got to see him Sunday. The husky red-haired sailor proudly flashed an English word: "Okay."

The trawler got Coast Guard permission to dock Saturday after Baluk was stricken at sea. The crew said they had come south of the usual fishing grounds looking for menhaden.

Labeling Aids In Insulation

AP Newsfeatures

Things like air - conditioning, electric heating, higher heating fuel prices — and housing developments built on meadows without benefit of shade trees—have made insulation an increasingly important home building material.

But confusion about insulation has gone hand-in-hand with its growth in importance. The home owner, as well as the family having a house built, has been faced with the problem of deciding what kind of material his house and climate require.

He has had to come up with decisions on such matters as thicknesses in walls, ceilings and floors, related to whether his home is air-conditioned and heated electrically or just plain heated.

All this seemed — and quite literally was — a job for a graduate engineer.

Now at least one segment of the industry has come up with a solution. The mineral wool industry has agreed to label all batts and blankets for home insulation with an "R" number.

The "R" stands for resistance to the passage of heat, and the higher the "R" number the better the insulation.

This simply means that all mineral wool insulations, regardless of thickness, foil surface or whatever, will do the same job of heat-stopping if they have the same "R" number. When the numbers are different, the more effective insulation will have a higher "R" number.

Today, most sandpapers carry labels such as "very fine," "fine," "medium" and "coarse." It's no longer necessary to carry around a chart unveiling the mysteries of the numerical code.

In much the same way, the new marking system of the mineral wool manufacturers eventually will do away with the average person's worry about the factors of density, conductivity and reflectivity-of-the-facing in the purchase of insulation.

How To Erase Sag In Ceiling

After a new house has gone through a heating season, it is not unusual to find cracks in the ceiling, particularly when the room is large and there are no partitions to support the large expanse of plaster.

In a great number of cases this is caused by the fact that the ceiling beams are not of sufficient size and strength or because the span is too great for them. The sag that results will never get better by itself, but it can be prevented from becoming greater. The first cracking will indicate what is to follow. And, providing that measures are taken immediately, it is possible to prevent a sag which will be noticeable.

As one can imagine, it is impossible to do anything except through the attic. And even though that may be floored over, it is not much of a job to take up the rough boards so that the beams supporting the ceiling below are exposed. After this has been done, strips of one by four wood are installed and provide hangers from the roof rafters to the beams, thus preventing any further sag and relieving the load to a very great extent.

It is not always necessary to install a hanger for every one of the beams. In some cases a hanger on every third or fourth rafter will be sufficient.

In some situations where the center of the attic is not in use for any purpose, a single hanger can be installed near the center of the span of the beam, and will provide as good a support as two hangers closer to the ends of the beams.

Much of the value of this corrective measure is in doing it as soon as the slightest sag or a pronounced crack in the ceiling becomes apparent.

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—President Eisenhower's granddaughter Susan has proved that her older brother David isn't the only athlete in the family.

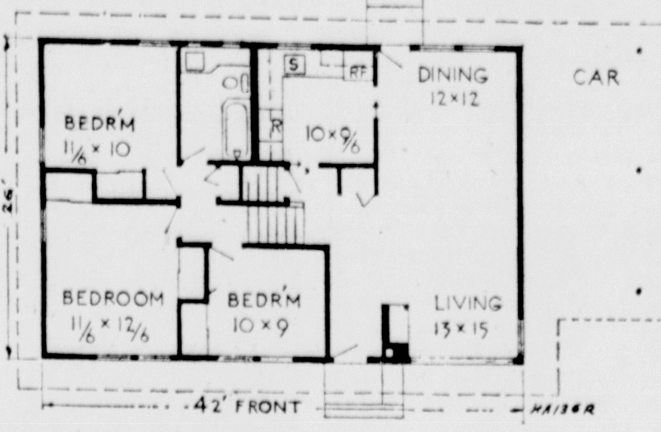

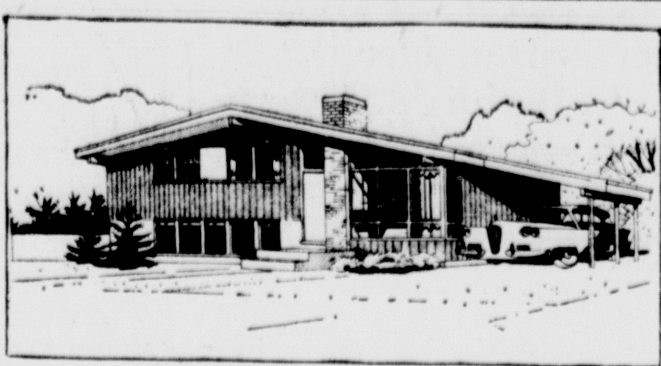

Six-year-old Susan entered three events in a horse show here Sunday and took fourth place in one. Riding Goldie, a horse owned by Mary Allen of Gettysburg, Pa., in all three events, she made her best showing in the pleasure horse championship class.

Not Teamster Official

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Hamilton County coroner's pathologist has ruled out the chance that a body found Saturday in the Ohio River is that of John Curtisinger, missing Teamsters Union official. Curtisinger, named trustee of the union's Cincinnati Local 100, vanished after leaving his Florence, Ky., home last Nov. 9.

Here Are Some Odds, Ends Of Interest To Home Owners

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

From various sources come these bits of information of interest to the home owner:

Builders interested in constructing houses for oldsters are advised, among other things, to provide wide halls and doorways, make storage space available without climbing on chairs and ladders and provide for increased heating and lighting requirements.

While most of the electrical work around the house must be done by licensed electricians, many codes, even in large cities, do not require permits or inspection certificates for installing or repairing door bells, chimes and other signaling systems.

Powdered graphite is usually recommended for sticking locks, but one of the leading manufacturers of powdered graphite has now come out with graphite in fluid form for keeping locks in working order.

It is generally conceded that, in the matter of house design, a continuous roof line makes a house appear larger than one with a broken roof line.

Plan New Churches

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Ohio Disciples of Christ at their annual convention say 85 new churches are planned in Ohio. The group Saturday approved a resolution affirming support of the National Council of Churches and backing Air Force Secretary Dudley Sharp for withdrawing a controversial reservists' manual. The book asserted there was Communist infiltration of churches and education groups.

Ideas Offered On Correcting Of Wallboard

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY
Written For Bell Syndicate

Perhaps more than 50 per cent of the low and medium - cost homes built recently have what is known as dry - wall construction for the interior walls.

When all is said and done, this use of wallboard is simply a poor substitute for the plastered walls which were formerly used and which are still used in building good houses of the higher - cost type.

Good, workmanlike jobs can be done with wallboard, but it requires more time and care than some builders are prepared to put into them.

When the job is rushed through, the joining of the panels is poor and in a few months the seam becomes painfully obvious, and when poor lumber has been used, it shrinks and causes gaps and bulges in the panels. As a result, the appearance of a room is completely spoiled.

Such a condition can usually be corrected, but it takes a lot of patience and some hours of work on every room.

The first step is to renail the panels, carefully sinking the nails a bit and filling the cups with spackle. The old taping should be removed and replaced after filling the seam where it is needed. The edges of the tape should be feathered off with sandpaper and coated with shellac before repainting. Owners of this type of house should know that painted walls show this defect in a dry-wall to far greater extent than papered walls, and also should know that a wallpaper with a busy or fine small design shows seams and other defects less than a paper with a large or faint design.

In painting a dry wall a heavy, covering, dense paint is the best. It is possible to plaster over a dry wall job. The procedure is to punch holes through the wallboard, about one-inch in diameter and spaced every eight inches. This permits the plaster to get a grip. This job necessitates removing the wood trim, but it is generally worth it.

Six Key Factors To Consider In Selecting Site For Boiler

CHICAGO — What is the best location for the house heating boiler? In many residences there is more than one location available where a boiler might be installed.

Such factors as accessibility, lower cost and interference with other plans for the use of the space must be considered.

Some general considerations which govern the selection of the location for the boiler by the plumbing and heating contractor are listed by the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau.

1. — Boiler should be placed as near the chimney flue as possible. The smoke pipe should be as short and direct as possible with the least number of turns.

2. — The boiler should not be connected to a fireplace flue or to a flue used for other appliances.

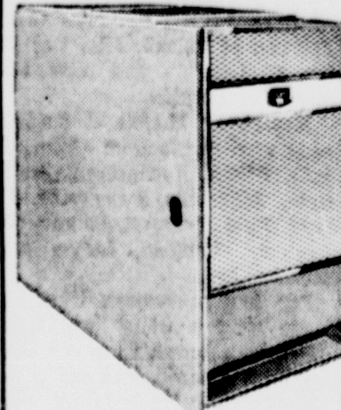

3. — If there is a choice between using an inside or an outside chimney, the connections should be made to an inside one. This will provide better draft conditions as well as fuel economy.

4. — Ample space should be provided around the boiler and domestic water heater for prop-

5. — Provision should be made for ample air supply for combustion.

6. — There should be a substantial and level foundation. If the boiler is to be located on a combustible floor, there should be adequate insulation.

Drunken Husband Gets Lift From His Wife

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—When police responded to a hurry-up call Sunday night a housewife told them her husband was drunk and she wanted him arrested.

But a man cannot be arrested for being drunk in his own home, the officers explained.

She picked the man up, carried him into the street and dumped him.

"He's in a public street now, arrest him!" she said.

So they booked him at city jail.

Miss Lindesmith, John Hoey Wed In Church Rite At Lisbon

White gold wedding rings were exchanged by Miss Leann Betty Lindesmith and John Ray Hoey at their marriage rites Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the First Christian Church in Lisbon, with the Rev. Frank Lillie, pastor of the First Christian Church of Columbiana, officiating.

Urn of white gladioli and mums enhanced the altar, which was banked with palms and large potted scheffalaria. Seven-branched candelabra holding white tapers at either side completed the setting. White satin bows marked the family pews. The custom of open church was observed.

Byron Griffith, guest soloist, sang "Because" and "At Dawning." Mrs. Vernon Duke, organist, presented a half hour of nuptial music.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Thelma Lindesmith of E. Pine St. and the late Earl H. Lindesmith and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hoey of Columbiana.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her uncle, Clarence Adair of Canfield, and by her mother, the bride's floor length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle was fashioned on princess lines with a molded bodice, a scooped neckline with scallops formed of lace and having long empire sleeves. Wide medallions of lace formed a band down the sides of the sheer skirt. Her only jewelry was pearls which the bridegroom's grandmother had worn at her wedding. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held in place with a crown of lace and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and white roses.

Attendants Named
Mrs. Alan Webber of Columbiana, sister of the bridegroom, as matron of honor, and Miss Karen Lee Adair of Canfield, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaid, wore identical street length dresses of white nylon touched with green and orchid, with shirred bodices and scoop necklines and very full three-tiered bouffant skirts worn over hoops. A deep green cummerbund with matching Dior bow adorned the waistlines. The white tulle picture hats and white pumps completed their ensembles. Their bouquets were of white carnations and stephanotis.

Miss Roxanne Webber, niece of the bridegroom, acted as flower girl, wearing a white nylon dress over orchid taffeta and carried a basket of white and lavender pom-poms. Her head-piece was of the same flowers.

Michael Mecure of Columbiana served as best man and ushers were Alan Webber of Columbiana and George Batcha of West Point.

150 Attend Reception
The mother of the bride chose a moss green dacron and cotton lace sheath dress with bone accessories and an orange spice picture hat with brown and white flowers. The bridegroom's mother wore a mint-green eyelet sheath dress with beige accessories and beige and white hat. Both complemented their attire with corsages of white roses.

A reception for some 150 followed in the social rooms of the word that their son, George Lodge of Algonquin, Ill., arrived in San Francisco Friday from a four-week business trip to New Zealand, Australia and Tokyo. He is employed by the Homelite Co., with home offices in Port Chester, N. Y. His trip covered 23,000 air miles. On Wheat Market Quota

C. C. Herron of Pughtown, chairman of the Hancock County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reported the annual marketing quota referendum for wheat growers will be held July 21 as the first step in the wheat program for 1961 required by present law.

The purpose of the referendum is to determine whether or not wheat growers wish to market their 1961 crop wheat under a marketing quota system. Quotas have been proclaimed by the secretary of agriculture, as required whenever the wheat supply is more than 20 percent above normal. They will take effect if approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum.

The final program for the Columbiana County Conference on Aging Tuesday at the American Legion Home in Lisbon was listed today by Mrs. J. Donald Thompson, county representative.

Cornell Monda of Lisbon is in charge of the program. The theme will be "Aging With a Future, Every Citizen's Concern."

Hit By Power Failure

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—About three-fourths of this city was affected Sunday by a power failure which lasted 5½ hours. Lightning hitting a transformer, and an underground transmission line burning out at the power plant, caused the blackout. One man was injured in a car-truck crash at an intersection where the traffic light was out, police reported.

New Library Book Concerns Political Convention Activity

Readers who enjoyed the Pulitzer prize-winning novel, "Advise and Consent," by Allen Drury, will not want to miss Jane Reichley's "Hail to the Chief," a story of one who must love, cajole and bully a convention for her supreme favor—the presidential nomination.

Miss Frances Jones, librarian at the Carnegie Public Library, said the author has been a speech writer and organizer of political campaigns in Boston and Philadelphia. Another impassioned novel about Washington during the era of McCarthy's Communist investigations is Ernest Frankel's "Tongue of Fire."

This week's new novels include several with modern themes. Clyde Brion Davis tells the poignant story of a decent small town family and of married love against a background of the American Midwest as it really was 50 years ago, the title, "The Big Pink Kite."

The American food industry, one of the most competitive in the world, creates the background for a vivid, fast-paced novel. The title for "Brother, Which Drummer?" by Robert Musser Brown is derived from a pithy remark of Thoreau's "If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer."

Dorothy James Roberts, formerly of Marietta, has a new novel with Virginia as a background, "With Night We Banish Sorrow." The Lippincott prize novel was won by Marjorie Fischer for her novel, "Mrs. Sherman's Summer." It concerns the family crises in a wealthy Jewish family who spent their summers around the year 1910 in a big house on Long Island.

Boat Club Planned

Facilities will be moved to the former seaplane base between the Suspension and Steel Bridges on Wheeling Island.

Potter Golfers Win District Title

Capture 1st Links Crown; Await State

East Liverpool High will be represented in a state golf tournament for the first time in the school's history next weekend.

A well-balanced team led the Potters to their first district championship Saturday over the Belmont Country Club course at St. Clairsville.

East Liverpool, which was undefeated but tied twice in the regular season, finished with a 327 total, six strokes in front of Zanesville's 333. Ten teams were entered in the meet.

Leading the way for the Potters were Rick Crable who fired a 79 while veteran Craig Burbick and sophomore Bobby Putt turned in 81's and Sam Hughes shot an 86.

Low medalist honors went to Brown of Martins Ferry with a 68.

Other teams in the meet included Tiltonsville 335, Steubenville Big Red 336, Martins Ferry 342, New Philadelphia 359, St. Clairsville 360, Steubenville Central 362 and Uhrichsville 405.

Last year the Potters were runner-up to Steubenville Big Red in the district tourney.

During the regular season the Potters defeated six other schools and the only blemishes on the record were deadlocks with Weirton and Youngstown Ursuline.

Coach Nate Lorah's squad will leave for Columbus on Thursday. Following practice rounds, the Potters will compete for the state golf title over the Scarlet course at Ohio State University.

Big Klu Hits Ball On Nose

By JOE MOOSHL

Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Ted Kluzewski, once the most feared hitter in the National League before a backache all but ended his career, is again hitting the ball with old time authority.

The 245-pound first baseman who found new life in the American League when Pittsburgh dealt him to Chicago last year in time to help the White Sox win the pennant, has taken over the major league batting lead.

"And I don't see any reason why I can't keep right on hitting," said Kluzewski Sunday after getting 6-for-7 in a doubleheader against Washington.

Despite Kluzewski's batting, the Sox lost to Washington 7-5 and 3-2.

"My back doesn't bother me anymore and as long as I play every day, I have my timing," said Klu. "That's the important thing in hitting."

Big Klu, at the ripe baseball age of 35, has boosted his batting average to .422. Since taking over the regular job at first base for the Sox at Cleveland May 14, Klu has 17 hits in 32 official at bats. He has scored 10 runs, driven in 10, socked four doubles and 2 home runs.

He has been hitting the walls with regularity for doubles and singles.

"Right now I'm hitting on the line," said Klu. "But it won't be long when I'll get a little loft and then the ball should start disappearing."

Hale, Gordon Tossed Out

Two Ejected In Tribe's Waterlogged 7-6 Defeat

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two ejected, that was the Cleveland Indians' situation here Sunday after they lost 7-6 to the Baltimore Orioles in a clash cut by rain to five official innings.

The defeat dropped Cleveland to third place, but the Indians are only one game behind the Chicago White Sox, who lost a pair to Washington.

The two ejected were Manager Joe Gordon and pinch hitter Bob Hale. Their ejection was called by Ed Hurley.

"If Hurley would spend a little more time looking at the ball game and less watching the dugout, he might be a better umpire," Gordon grumbled shortly after the game.

Hale had a letter of protest ready to mail to Joe Cronin, American League president. Hale said it was the third time Hurley had kicked him off the bench.

The disagreement came after Bob Stewart, operating behind the plate, called a strike on Bubba Phillips. Just about all the Indians thought it should be a ball and the shouted disapproval.

Hurley glanced into the dugout, wrote in his letter. "What was that pitch, Ed?" Hale said he asked. "How am I supposed to know?" Hurley replied. "What are you looking in here for?" Hale then asked. "You'd better shut up, Hale," Hurley was quoted as saying. "I'm not saying a word, Ed." Was Hale's comment.

At that point, Hurley ran Hale out and followed with Gordon. After the manager had gone out to speak to the umpire.

Hale's letter said he made the team as a pinch hitter and wondered if he would be permitted to cheer from the bench.

It would have taken a lot of cheering to help the Tribe overcome the 11-6 lead the Orioles had amassed after five-and-a-half innings.

The four Oriole runs made in the top of the sixth will not go into the record books. Since Cleveland did not get a chance at bat after the fifth frame, the score reverts to the last full inning.

Rain delayed the start of the game about 20 minutes and interrupted it later. After about one hour and 17 minutes, both the game and the second half of the scheduled doubleheader were called.

The visitors scored seven runs in the first two frames against Gary Bell, who is now 5-2. Bell's lack of control brought in knuckleballer Bob Tiefenauer, who remained until the sixth, after he gave up a single and two walks that loaded the bases.

Dick Stigman entered and permitted the four nullified runs to cross the plate.

Woodie Held hit his eighth homer of the season in the second inning and Vic Power a grand slammer in the third for the Tribe.

Power's four-bagger got rid of Hal (Skinner) Brown, but Jack Fisher entered and held Cleveland to one hit in two and two-thirds innings.

Cleveland has today free. Tuesday night, will face the Washington Senators in the first of a two-game series here.

Grant won 11 in a row from the Senators over a two-year period and has never lost to them.

Michigan Team Outlasts Field To Win ABC Event

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The 57th American Bowling Congress championships, ended Sunday after 79 days and nights, produced a new crop of tenpin heroes.

When the open team championship was finally claimed by A & A Asphalt, which marked the first time in five years that the title was won by a major tenpin power. The unheralded Birmingham, Mich., team rolled a 3096 series on March 23 and then swatted out two months of firing the nation's talent.

The A & A's won top money of $2,500 from the $409,311 ABC prize fund, made up from entry fees.

Paul Kulbaga, unknown on the national scene until he won the singles title with 726, won almost as much as the team champions. The Cleveland bowler picked up $500 for his singles title, $900 for second place in the all-events, $400 from the doubles where he was third with George Schulz and $320 as his share from the third place Buddy Simons team for a total of more than $2,100.

The Cinderella roster of ABC champions was rounded out by Andy Marzich and Dick Jensen of Norwalk, Calif., who took the doubles title and $1,000 with a 1369 count. Their set was rolled May 5.

The only established star to win a title was Vince Lucif of Trenton, N.J., who grabbed the all-events crown with 1985. The 47-year-old Italian immigrant, who had never won a national title despite 15 years in top competition, earned $1,000.

The booster division was topped by Brannan Boosters No. 2 of McKees Rocks, Pa., who got $250 in position money and a $100 squad prize.

The closing of the 1960 tournament marked the end of an era for the ABC. Next year the tourney will be face-lifted with a "Classic Division" reserved for professional bowlers. The present open division will be renamed the regular division and the booster division will be retained.

The average bowler no longer will have the satisfaction of knowing he competed against the pros in the ABC.

Two Ohio teams were in the top 10 in the booster division. Dunbar Drilling, Inc., of Swanton was seventh with 2765, and Henderson's Tavern of Salem placed ninth with 2761.

A Youngstown duo was only one pin behind the leaders in doubles. Jack Baum and Andrew Hudoba posted a 1358 total, and the second-place finish was worth $900.

Dominic Bertolini of Youngstown took third in singles with 720, worth $430 in prize money.

Boss Bosco and Ed Markulis of Akron finished ninth in doubles with 1294, winning $562.50.

A Columbus bowler, Joe Ranelli, was eighth in all events with 1932. He will collect $575.

Turns In 9:9.5 Clocking For 100-Yard Dash

Bob Mackall had never ran the 100-yard dash under 10 seconds, that is until Saturday, and his great performance couldn't have come at a better time.

The Potter sprint star tied an Eastern Ohio District record with

Lisbon Star Qualifies In Two Running Events

Lisbon's Tom Brooks, who wrote a cinderella story in the Columbiana County meet last week by winning the 100-yard dash the first time he ever participated in a meet, qualified for the state event during the Northeastern Ohio District track and field classic at Salem. Brooks was third in the 100 and the 220. It was the first time he ever ran the 220. Paul Warfield of Warren won the 100-yard dash in 9.9.

a 9:9.5 clocking in the 100 Saturday at Uhrichsville.

Mackall's time equaled a record set in 1956 by Johnson of Uhrichsville.

The 9:9.5 also lowers Mackall's East Liverpool High School record of 10 seconds flat which he set in the first meet of this spring at Patterson Field.

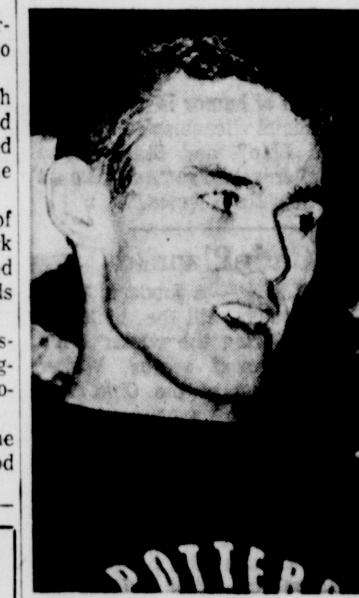

His performance qualified him for the state meet in Columbus this weekend.

Mackall also finished third in the broad jump, just missing second place by a half inch. The Potter standstill did not enter the 220-yard dash.

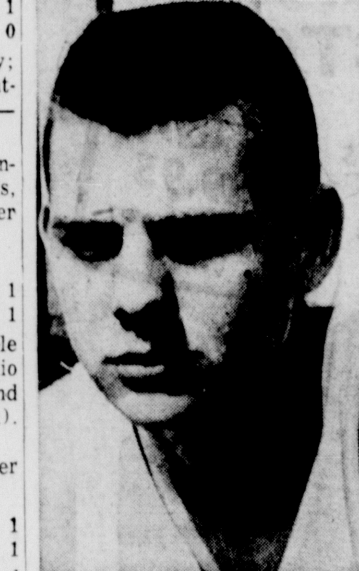

Wellsville's Bob Kiggins qualified in the high jump by tying for second place. Kiggins jumped 5 feet, 8 inches with the winning jump at 5 feet, 9 1/4 inches by Newton of Uhrichsville.

Bob Christen, Potter hurdler, picked up a fifth place in the low hurdles. Schmitt of St. Clairsville tied the district hurdle record in 20.2.

Bellaire captured the district title with 45 1/2 points. Others were St. Clairsville 30 1/2, Uhrichsville 24 1/2, Zanesville 23, Steubenville Big Red 21 1/4, Martins Ferry 20, New Philadelphia 13, East Liverpool 11, Toronto 9 1/2, Wintersville 9, Cambridge 6, Wellsville and Shadyside 3, Steubenville Central 2, Jefferson Union and Coshocton 1, and Bellaire St. John and Cadiz 1/4.

'John Petchel Night'

Midland Football Coach Honored At Testimonial

Though John Petchel of Midland Lincoln High School resigned his football coaching job after last season, he plans to keep in touch with the sport by offering a scouting service to get boys scholarships.

This was brought out at a testimonial dinner in his honor Sunday evening at the St. Anthony Club, sponsored by the Leopard Booster Club and attended by some 150.

Petchel explained that the Beaver Valley Scouting Service will offer information to colleges on outstanding high school senior prospects. Brochures, to include information of the area, will include outstanding juniors later.

Burgess Eli G. Corak, introduced by Chuck Wilson of Radio Station WBVP of Beaver Falls, toastmaster, welcomed the group and Cellini offered greetings.

Dr. Ralph H. Jewell, superintendent of Midland public schools, spoke of Petchel's influence on boys and the seasons he guided. He said the school administration is pleased with Petchel's direction and leadership and sorry that he will not continue as coach. He said "the boys will remember and so will we."

Lincoln High Principal William A. Walters said Petchel was "easy to work with." Other tributes were paid from several of the coaches of schools Midland played last season.

Monaca's Aldo Bonomi said Petchel was an "inspired leader." Beaver's John Berdell said his scouting would be "a great service." Larry Bruno of Beaver Falls said Petchel improved football for when a team played Midland, it played the best.

Also attending were Sam Wilson of New Brighton, Alex Wheeler of Freedom, and several members of the Rochester coaching staff, including Al Franco who represented coach Jim Gomory.

Chuck Wilson pointed out that Petchel, coaching since 1951, has a record of 60 wins, 19 losses, 6 ties and two championships. Petchel, who continues as a teacher, said he enjoyed coaching and plans to keep in touch with his scouting service. He said that coaching at Midland will be in good hands next season.

Charles Polce, new head coach, was introduced along with coaches John Wilson, George Ordich and Paul Farnan. Others were Mel Laing, faculty advisor, Charles P. Henderson, band director, and several members of last season's team.

Fr. Robert Garland, assistant pastor of Presentation Catholic Church, spoke briefly and also gave the invocation and benediction.

The committee in charge included Rocco Ciancone, Milan Vranes, Bill Black, Pete Benedict, Jim Hart, Gene Bruno, Charles Green and Cellini.

Bettors Own High Jump Mark

Thomas Remains In Orbit

BOSTON (AP) — John Thomas is making a shambles of the seven-foot high jump which was only a dream four years ago.

Thomas sailed 7 feet, 1 1/4 inches Saturday to better the recognized world outdoor mark of 7-1 and top his smashing Penn Relays effort by one quarter of an inch.

Superbly self-disciplined for his 19 years, the Boston University sophomore has the inside track for the Olympic gold medal because of his control and attention to criticism.

Jumping against a stiff breeze at the New England Intercollegiate meet in Cambridge, Thomas did 7-1 1/4, then asked for the bar to be put at 7-1 1/2. When he cleared the latter height on his first try, multiple measurements verified it actually was 7-1 1/4.

Three times Thomas missed 7-2 1/4, then said, "I just wasn't mentally prepared for two of them and was too far away on the take-off for the other."

"What did I do wrong?" Thomas asked a friend.

"You weren't able to get any snap into your last three steps and your kick was lazy," came the reply.

"Thanks, Buddy," Thomas said with a mock frown—then added: "I need guys like you around. They keep me from becoming satisfied."

It was June, 1956, when Southern California's Charlie Dumas, then a Compton Junior College athlete, broke the seven foot barrier. Of the 27 seven-footers since then, Thomas owns 21 although his indoor jumps, including a 7-1 1/2 leap, aren't eligible for world recognition.

Rookie Clips Speed Record In 500 Test

By DALE BURGESS

Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Jim Hurtubise, 27-year-old graduate of county fair dirt tracks, was applauded by speed fans today as the hottest rookie at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway since George Souders won the 1927 Memorial Day race on his first attempt.

But Hurtubise, who powered Speedway qualifying records Sunday, will have to pass 22 cars in next Monday's 44th 500-mile if he equals Souders' feat.

The Lennox, Calif., Coast Guard veteran cranked the 10-mile record up to a fantastic 149.056 miles an hour and had a best lap at 149.601. Nobody before had driven the ancient, relatively flat-banked track at even 148.

In spite of the feat, Hurtubise will have to line up next Monday behind the 22 cars that were qualified the previous weekend. The first starter will be Eddie Sachs, Allentown, Pa., who held the qualifying record for a week at 146.592.

Wind and rain halted trials completely Saturday and showers closed the track for more than four hours of the seven-hour final period Sunday. Twenty cars were left in line when the track closed.

The final 33-car field had a record qualifying average of 144.070 miles an hour. The previous high was 143.445 in 1958.

Pirates Nip Giants, 8-7, In 11th To Gain 1½-Game Margin

Lowly Senators Erupt To Whip First Place Chisox Twice

Smith Hits Double With Bases Loaded

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The two hottest hitters in the National League are Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente and Milwaukee's Joe Adcock. Result: The league-leading Pirates and the third-place Braves are sizzling.

Clemente, who apparently regards the day lost when he doesn't get at least two hits, and score at least one run, rapped three safeties and scored twice Sunday as the Pirates downed San Francisco, 8-7, in 11 innings.

The Puerto Rican flash scored the winning run on pinch-hitter Hal Smith's two-out, bases-loaded single off Mike McCormick after starting the rally with a double.

The victory not only gave the Pirates the rubber of the three-game series but widened their lead over the second-place Giants to a game and a half. It was Pittsburgh's 10th triumph in the last 12 games.

Adcock, apparently fully recovered from the back injury that sidelined him from April 28 to May 14, cracked a two-run homer, his second in two days, to lead the Braves to a 3-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs. It was Milwaukee's third straight.

Los Angeles, paced by the hitting of Frank Howard and Norm Larker, outscored Philadelphia 9-6. St. Louis and Cincinnati split a doubleheader, the Cardinals coming from behind to win the first game 5-4 and the Reds taking the second 5-3.

In the American League, Washington won two from league-leading Chicago 7-5 and 3-2. Detroit took two from Boston 6-2 and 6-2. New York outlasted Kansas City 9-7 and Baltimore nipped Cleveland 7-6 in five innings of an abbreviated first game of a scheduled doubleheader. Rain ended proceedings.

Managerial strategy backfired and beat the Giants. With the score tied 7-7 and one out in the last of the 11th, Clemente doubled and moved to third on an infield out. San Francisco Manager Bill Rigney ordered McCormick to give intentional passes to right-handed hitters Gino Cimoli and Bill Mazeroski to load the bases. Rigney had a double purpose. First, he figured there would be a play at any base. Second, he guessed that Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh would pinch hit for pitcher Elroy Face. That's what he wanted because Face, fourth Pirate pitcher, had retired nine Giants in succession.

Power Aims At Batting Title In American Loop

CLEVELAND — Fancy fielding Vic Power of the Cleveland Indians, who also wields one of the most potent bats in the Tribe's attack, is off to a good start in quest of a couple of goals he has set for himself in 1960.

The Tribe's first sacker indicated this spring at Tucson that his .289 batting average of last year disappointed him very much.

"I know I'm a better than .300 hitter," Power pointed out and then he went on to outline his hopes for 1960. "I think I can hit .340 or higher this year and if I do, I think I might have a good chance to win the batting championship."

Oddly enough, one of the chief threats for the batting championship will be his own teammate, Harvey Kuenn, who won American League batting laurels last year while with the Detroit Tigers when he recorded a .353 mark.

And still another strong contender will be the Indians' left fielder, Tito Francona, who wound up the 1959 season with a .363 batting average. Francona just missed being the batting champion, losing out because he failed to make the necessary number of trips to the plate.

Power is probably one of the most under-rated stars of the game. Unquestionably the finest fielder at his position in either league and probably one of the best defensive first basemen in the history of the game, he covers his position with the grace of a ballet dancer.

He plays his position much deeper than most first basemen thus cutting off many potential hits that would pass other first basemen.

Power's RBI season high in the majors was 80 while with Kansas City and Cleveland in 1958. Last season he dropped off to 60 RBIs as his home runs fell from 16 to 10. However, with 12 runs batted in Cleveland's first 17 games, Vic could reach the 100 mark for the first time in his major league career.

One of the factors contributing to Power's excellent start this year is his feeling that he seems destined to be at first base all season, the other Cleveland infield positions being fairly well set.

"Sometimes I worry when I play another position," Power says and those closest to him are inclined to agree that this can be the case, especially after he may have committed a mistake in the field.

Power always has been a willing performer at other infield positions which he can handle quite well, particularly second base. However, it is first base he prefers and the zest and enthusiasm he displays at his post is obvious to all Tribe fans who have accepted his outstanding plays as almost routine.

As player-manager of Caguas in the Puerto Rican League this winter, Power won the circuit's batting title with a .347 average. "Maybe I win two batting championships in one year?" he says smilingly.

Senator Frost Wins Roosevelt Raceway Feature

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—Senator Frost, rated the best trotter in the United States, won the United States Harness Writer Trots at Roosevelt Raceway Saturday by a length and three-quarters.

The Senator took the lead going into the clubhouse turn the first time around and stayed there in making the mile and quarter in 2:34 1-5.

The five-year-old son of Victory Sord - Spencess, driven by Dick Buxton, is owned by Wayne W. Galvin of Wilmington, Ohio, and Ray V. Foster of Lima, Ohio.

Senator Frost returned $3.30, $3.00 and $2.90 for his win.

John A. Hanover paid $14.30 and $6.70 for second spot and Lumber Along returned $5.90 for third place.

The Silk, the Canadian champ, broke stride at the start and was never in contention. The horse was a strong second, behind Senator Frost, in the betting with the crowd of 37,117 at the closing race of the season for the track.

Baltimore Trails Chisox By ½ Game

By The Associated Press

Anyone who thinks baseball is an easy game to figure should consult Manager Al Lopez of the American League leading Chicago White Sox.

Lopez started Sunday in a happy frame of mind. His team had just whipped the tough New York club two straight. It hadn't lost in 10 games at home this season. The doubleheader opposition was last-place Washington. Here was a chance to fatten up the game and a half first place lead.

Luck appeared to favor Lopez and his White Sox right at the start. Pedro Ramos, scheduled to pitch the opener for Washington, was hit on the head by a fungo bat in a pre-game drill and was taken to a hospital. Washington Manager Cookie Lavagetto was forced to press his ace, Camilo Pascual, into service with only three days rest.

The stage was set for a White Sox sweep. Instead, it was the Senators who scored the sweep, 7-5 and 3-2. Pascual not only won the opener, inflicting the first home defeat upon Chicago, but Ramos returned from the hospital to whip the Sox in the second game with a nine-hitter. Ironically, it was Ramos' first victory of the season.

The double defeat, together with Baltimore's 7-6 triumph over Cleveland, shaved the White Sox' first place lead to a half game over the Orioles. The Indians fell to third place but were only one game off the pace.

The Yankees outlasted Kansas City 9-7 and Detroit scored its first doubleheader sweep of the year, 6-2 and 5-2 over the Boston Red Sox.

In the National League, Pittsburgh increased its first place lead over San Francisco to a game and a half with an 8-7 triumph over the Giants in 11 innings. Milwaukee downed Chicago

3-1 for its third in a row. Los Angeles walloped Philadelphia 9-6 and St. Louis split with Cincinnati. The Cards won the opener 5-4 and the Reds the second game 5-3.

In the opener, Pascual ran his string of scoreless innings to 31 before yielding a two-run double to Ted Kluszewski in the sixth. He struck out seven to run his league-leading total to 68 and turned in his fifth victory and fourth straight.

Kluszewski rapped three hits in each game to give him the league lead in batting with .422.

Bally Ache Eyes New Finish Lines Coming Up

By GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP)—Before Bally Ache gives the equine version of the belly laugh and claims 3-year-old racing honors, the Preakness winner has a few more finish lines to cross.

The next stop for the bay colt, who was second in the Kentucky Derby to Venetian Way, will be the $100,000 Jersey Derby at Garden State Park on Memorial Day. Then on to the $125,000 Belmont, last of the Derby-Preakness-Belmont triple-crown series, on June 11.

In both races, Bally Ache will face some of the same opposition he whipped by four lengths or more in the Preakness. In addition, Tompion will be back in action after a short rest.

Tompion was favored in the Derby, but threw a shoe and wound up fourth. His hoof was damaged slightly by a nail, so Tompion missed the Preakness. Earlier this year, the son of Tom Fool won the Santa Anita Derby and the Blue Grass Stakes.

The Turfland Inc. syndicate, which purchased Bally Ache for $1,250,000 on May 14, has set its sights on Round Table's all-time money-winning record of $1,749,869.

Bally Ache already has hauled down $664,527, including $121,000 from the Preakness Saturday.

The 26-year-old Houston native made his mark in the Sam Snead festival Sunday at a distinguished one. He finished in front of the runnerup, Babe Lichardus of Grossinger, N.Y., by 7 strokes for $2,000 first money.

Wooster's Scots Win Track Crown

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Paced by sophomore Stewart Paterson, the Wooster College Scots have won their first Ohio Conference track and field championship in seven years.

The Scots ran away with the meet Saturday, winning five firsts.

Paterson took three firsts. The 155-pound athlete from Kansas City, Mo., won the broad jump with a leap of 23 feet 2½ inches, captured the 100-yard dash with a time of 9.8 seconds and the 220-yard dash in 21.6 seconds.

He scored 16¼ of Wooster's 45½ points. Wittenberg was second with 31½ and Akron third with 27.

Other teams in the 57th conference track and field meet finished in this order:

Oberlin 22, Capital 20¼, Ohio Wesleyan, the defending champion, 20¼, Heidelberg 12½, Muskingum 11½, Kenyon 10½, Hiram 9½, Denison 7 and Otterbein 5.

Scouts' Event Draws Crowd

Some 319 Boy Scouts, Explorers and leaders attended the annual Cherokee Boy Scout District Camporee over the weekend at Camp McKinley near Lisbon, Robert Gray, executive, reported today. Fifteen Scout troops and two Explorer posts were represented at the camp session, which began Friday night and continued through Sunday.

At a camp fire session Saturday night, some 185 area Cub Scouts and 125 other guests were present for a total attendance of 625, Gray said.

Blue first place and red second place ribbons were awarded to competing units and three Life rank pins were presented to members of Troop 20 and Troop 19. A chieftain's headress was presented to Eugene Seeley of Chester, district commissioner, by Gray. Charles McBride initiated several into the "Fairweather Campers." Bennett Taylor of Lisbon, Council executive, commended the camping methods of the whole group.

Don Ramsey was in charge of the patrol competition and Al West directed the Saturday night campfire. The Rev. William Claghorn of Chester's Westminster United Presbyterian Church led services Sunday morning.

William Rayburn and Seeley were camporee co-chairmen. The Hookstown Riding Club presented a horsemanship program Sunday.

Steel Union's Scholarships Given To 128

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, said 128 students are now enrolled in colleges and universities on scholarships sponsored by the union.

The individual scholarships range from $10 to $4,000 annually and add up to a total of $128,220. Over 450 students have been enrolled.

A compilation of the overall USWA scholarship program by Emory Bacon, the union's educational director, shows that the grants are made by 11 of the organization's districts and by 71 local unions, including Local 1360 of Ambridge, in District 20.

Local 1212 of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. issued a reminder of the availability of several Philip Murray scholarships for children of members in good standing and those deceased or retired.

The deadline is June 1 and applications and information are available at the Steelworkers Hall, 617 Midland Ave., Midland.

Two scholarships, renewable yearly and valued at $500 annually for 4 years, are offered to the college of the applicant's choice. Two nursing scholarships of $150 each per year for 3 years are offered for nursing schools of the applicant's choice. These may be renewed yearly if students maintain academic standards. Joseph D'Alesio is Local 1212 president.

$2,800 Cost Seen For Signal System

The overall cost of a new traffic signal system in East End will be approximately $2,800, as other equipment must be purchased in addition to the lights and controls on which a $2,210 bid was received Tuesday. Mayor Bert H. Goodballet pointed out today.

The additional equipment, which will be purchased separately, will include 600 feet of wire at approximately 68 cents a foot; 3 replacement lenses at $79 each and 100 feet of conduit, the mayor said. Council appropriated a total of $3,500 for the new signal system, so the balance remaining will be approximately $600 to $700, Mayor Goodballet explained.

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. What can I do about drawers that refuse to work and have become stuck because of dampness?

A. Apply heat in the form of an electric pad, a sun-ray (infrared) bulb, or a portable electric heater. The heat will cause the wood to shrink, and when the swelling goes down, the drawers will work again. Take care, of course, not to scorch the wood.

Q. How can I avoid the tedious and exacting chore of painting new strips of putty around my window-glass?

A. One good way out of this chore is to mix a little paint of the desired color with your putty before applying it. Use the thick pigment from the bottom of the paint can, and knead it until the color is uniform. Colors in oil also knead well into putty.

Stratton Dam Fund Cleared

The sum of $6,180,000 for the Stratton super-dam is contained in the bill the House appropriations committee approved in Washington Friday for planning and construction of waterways projects for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The bill forwarded to the House did not clip the amount originally earmarked for the big project at Stratton.

Projects are built by both Army Engineers and, in the West, by the Reclamation Bureau.

Projects contained in the bill, the amount recommended by the committee and in parenthesis the amount asked in each instance by President Eisenhower's budget, include:

Army Engineer projects:
Ohio: Pike Island locks and dam at Yorkville, $9,000,000 ($9,000,000); Dillon Reservoir $4,223,000 ($4,223,000); West Branch Mahoning Reservoir $2,200,000 ($2,200,000). Planning — Belleville locks and dam $250,000 ($250,000); Cleveland Harbor $200,000 ($200,000); Cleveland Harbor, east and west breakwater $20,000 (nothing); Lorain Harbor $300,000 (nothing); Sandusky Harbor $53,000 (nothing).

Area Men Attend Kaycees' Meeting

Twelve assemblies in the Youngstown Diocese, including four members of Cardinal Mercier General Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, attended an Eastern Ohio District convention Sunday at the Pick-Ohio Hotel in Youngstown.

The local group included Frank O'Hanlon, faithful navigator; Fred Baldassarre, faithful admiral and William J. Bamer, secretary of the district, and J. E. Johnston, district master.

Three names were submitted for the office of district master. William Mulligan of New Haven, Conn., supreme master, will make the announcement in September.

A district meeting is being planned for this summer at the Pick-Ohio Hotel to consider plans for welfare activities. The date will be announced later.

Election of officers will highlight the assembly meeting June 15 at the East Liverpool K. of C. Home.

4-H News

Plans for a skating party were discussed at the meeting of the Pioneer 4-H Club Tuesday night at the Pughnath School.

The club has set June 21 as the tentative date for the party at the Melody Lane Rink in Hookstown.

It was announced the county nature walk and breakfast will be held Saturday at 7:30 at Tomlinson Run State Park. Members will work on their project of caring for the community's honor roll at 10:30 a. m. Saturday.

County Health Day reports were given by Jim Gracie and a Safety Day report was presented by Linda Wilson.

The International Farm Youth exchange student will be at Oakland Grange on June 18 to show slides and relate his experiences in Argentina.

Miss Helen Petrakis, county 4-H agent talked on camp and urged members to complete their projects as soon as possible. The project books are due at the county office June 18.

Oliver Johnson, county extension agent, was a guest.

Betty Brown, vice president, conducted the business. Jim Pinney and Debbie Mercer were in charge of the devotions. Shirley Hally led the 4-H pledge and state song.

Lunch was served by Vicky Myers and Alice and Jean Spencer.

A wiener roast at Tomlinson Run State Park will feature the next meeting. The date will be announced.

The Elkrum Merry Maids 4-H Club entertained their mothers Wednesday night at a tea at the Elkrum Grange Hall with 35 present.

A program included a song by Karen Woodburn and a piano solo by Colleen Baker. Kay Evans, president, welcomed the guests.

Mrs. James L. McBride of Lisbon was presented the prize for the oldest mother, and Mrs. Francis Mullen of near Elkton, the youngest.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Herbert Martin and the date will be announced.

60 Attend Last Class Of Firemen's School

Sixty attended the second and final session of the annual fire school of the Tri-State Firemen's Association Sunday at Wellsville.

The men trained in extinguishing oil and auto fires part of the day and then utilized an abandoned house in working out various other tactical problems.

Wellsville City Council voted several months ago to allow the firemen to use the old house on Danbury Ave. as a training site.

The city had to purchase the home because it is in the McQueen's Run pondage area and the cellar floods when water is backed up.

Assistant Fire Chief Robert Lloyd of Wellsville was instructor.

James A. Garfield was the last U. S. President to be born in a log cabin.

Teenagers' Responsibilities Of Marriage Are Stressed

By G.K. HODENFIEL D
AP Education Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "Today's teenagers get better advice on how to choose a college, a career or a car then they do on how to pick a husband or wife," the national president of the PTA said today.

Mrs. James C. Parker said young people aren't being properly prepared for the responsibilities of marriage.

"Impulse marriages are becoming as common as impulse buying, and like impulse purchases, they are often regretted. All too often, they lead to impulse divorces," Mrs. Parker said in an interview.

"Young people seem to think they just can switch spouses if they don't like their bargain, the way they switch jobs or turn in a car for a fancier model."

Mrs. Parker, of Grand Rapids, Mich., spoke out between sessions of the 64th annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. About 2,500 delegates, representing 46,800 local PTAs, are attending the meetings, which opened Sunday night and run through Wednesday. The responsibility for training young people for marriage lies squarely on the home, Mrs. Parker said.

"But if the home doesn't meet this responsibility," she added, "the school has to do it. It is the only other force strong enough."

Pre-Natal Class Will Start June 1

LISBON — The Columbiana County Health Department announced that a new series of pre-natal classes will start at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday, June 1, in the department's offices on the third floor of the Courthouse.

Mrs. Violet Peterson, staff nurse, will be instructor and personnel of various hospitals will discuss hospital routine. Plans will be made to visit the area hospitals. This is the fifth course of instruction for expectant mothers offered by the department.

The course will consist of six weekly classes and will cover information relating to pregnancy, the hospital experience, labor and delivery and the care of the baby. The baby's bath and formula preparation will be demonstrated. Because of the limited facilities, the enrollment will be limited to 15. Those desiring to attend the classes are urged to register promptly by calling the health department office, HA. 4-7221.

The Welcome Wagon Club of Lisbon will again act as hostess to serve refreshments. The club will make a small assessment to help defray the cost of refreshments. There is no other charge.

Aliquippa Man Killed When Struck With Bat

ALIQUIPPA — A man struck in the head with a baseball bat was pronounced dead on arrival today at St. Francis Hospital in Pittsburgh.

Police said another man struck Robert L. Sligh, 28, on the head with the bat Sunday on an Aliquippa street. Sligh was first taken to Aliquippa Hospital with a head injury.

Police said they arrested Jobie L. Lewis, 26, of Aliquippa and held him on an open charge in connection with Sligh's death.

Lisbon Grange Gives Degree For Inspection

LISBON — Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pozner were the inspecting officers when the Lisbon Grange staged the third degree for the annual inspection Friday night. James Crowell, master, was in charge. Sandra Shaw of R. D. was in charge of the program and used a Memorial Day theme. A quartet, Mrs. Joan Harris and Misses Sandra Shaw, Karen Shaw and Donna Lottman, sang a medley of war songs.

Clifford Shaw reviewed the history of Gen. Morgan's raid. Ronnie Watkins played an accordion solo. A quiz followed. Lunch was furnished by the home economics committee.

Two work nights will be scheduled to get ready for the Grange's annual strawberry festival June 25.

The next meeting will be Friday, June 3, at 8:30 p. m.

Draft Board To Close

Awards Given To Cub Scouts At St. Aloysius

Approximately 105 parents and cubs attended a meeting of Cub Pack 7 of St. Aloysius Church Sunday in the school auditorium, which featured the presentation of awards and the crowning of the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Marvin Moore, cubmaster, presented awards to the following: David Pallard, wolf badge, gold arrow and two silver arrows; Charles Rogers, gold arrows; James Musuraca, two silver arrows; William Ward, bear badge, gold arrow and two silver arrows; James Bess, lion badge; Jeffrey White, denner; and Donald Smith, two-year pin.

Den 2, of which Mrs. Florence Gloeckner is den mother, was in charge of the crowning. The ceremony opened with a solo by Jeffrey Buckley. David Bentz was crown bearer and Miss Yvonne Pucci placed a crown of roses on the statue.

Each boy placed a flower at the foot of the statue as they marched and sang, "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother." Robert Poole led the boys in reciting the Rosary as they knelt at the statue. Florence Gloeckner sang, "Mother at Your Feet Is Kneeling." The ceremony closed with the boys singing "Immaculate Mother."

The session opened with prayer, followed with a flag ceremony led by Den 7, of which Mrs. Maxine War is den mother. The audience sang the national anthem.

The cubmaster introduced Robert Hissom as the new treasurer and John Melvin, new committeeman.

Handcraft was on display for the parents to view. The boys will march in the Memorial Day parade Monday. The meeting closed with taps.
